IMPACT OF SCREEN TIME ON YOUNG CHILDREN

Why the American Academy of Pediatrics is sounding the alarm.

STUDIES SHOW

Excessive screen time is associated with developmental delays in speech, motor skills, behavioral issues, sleep disruption, sedentary activity and problem-solving abilities.

DECREASE DAILY SCREEN TIME

Face-to-Face interactions are critical for children

RECOMMENDATIONS

- Avoid using screens as pacifiers, babysitters, or to stop tantrums.
- Turn off all screens during family meals and outings.
- Avoid using screens while feeding your child.
- Turn off screens and remove from bedrooms an hour before bedtime.
- Learn about parental controls and limit your own screen use around children to model healthy screen habits.
- Face-to-face interactions build language, improve recognition of emotions, and help an infant or child learn important social skills. Visit vroom.org or download the free app to help with activities for parents and children.

RECOMMENDED DAILY SCREEN TIME UNDER SIX YEARS OLD

0-18 Months

ZERO SCREEN TIME

ONLY video chatting with family or friends

18 mo – 2 Years

LIMIT SCREEN TIME
