VOLUNTEER OF THE WEEK

Congratulations to Robin Sutherland, the Smith's Marketplace Volunteer-of-the-Week, chosen at random from those who log into helpcounter.net, our volunteer tracking program. We are so lucky to have Robin for a Renaissance volunteer. She says this about her volunteer experience:

"One of my favorite times volunteering at Renaissance was in Mrs. Landon's 2nd grade class when the kids made paper mâché piggy banks. We had so much fun despite all our messy, gooey, hands. The best part was seeing the look on the kid's faces when they finished. They were all so proud of themselves in making something pretty cool. I love my time volunteering at Renaissance and look forward to many more opportunities."

Also congratulations to Monique Holladay, last week's volunteer of the week. Monique is a fantastic parent volunteer and has this to say about her experiencing doing so:

"One of my favorite things about Renaissance is the awesome wonder days! I love to help out with those and watch the kids learn while playing & using hands on activities. I also love helping with field trips and watching my kids interact and learn with friends. Thank you! "

We appreciate you, Robin and Monique. As Volunteer-of-the-Week, Both recipients will receive a $5 gift card donated by our Lehi Smith's Marketplace.

The volunteers at Renaissance shape and mold the culture at Renaissance. Thank you for letting your light shine. It is truly lighting the way for the next generation. This year would not have been the same without each of you!

DEAR LEHI FAMILIES,

This summer, the Lehi Area Chamber of Commerce and Lehi City are issuing a challenge to area youth: unplug from television, video games and cell phones and instead fly a kite, learn to fish or enjoy a picnic.

The Chamber and Lehi City is sponsoring Play Unplugged, a program that encourages youth to put down their electronic devices and instead explore a wide variety of outdoor and family-oriented activities. The program will be offered from the beginning of summer vacation until Labor Day.

Through the Play Unplugged program, local businesses and organizations will sponsor activities such as going hiking, visit a museum, read a book or make a fort. After your kids complete a Play Unplugged activity, they then visit the business sponsoring that activity and receive a Play Unplugged “Brag Badge” showing they completed the activity. As your kids collect the badges, they can be attached to the special Play Unplugged Lanyards (sponsored by Intermountain Health Care) so participants can keep track of their progress and brag about it to others. Your child will be bringing home these lanyards with them from school. If not, we have extra lanyards at our Chamber of Commerce office.

Visit the chamber office at 235 E. State, Lehi, Monday through Friday between 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

After your kids pick up their badges from local businesses, make sure they go to the Play Unplugged website to register each badge. You’ll notice a unique number on the back of each badge. Enter this number at the correct location on the website. Each time you register a badge you are earning points. You’ll notice that each Badge has a point value. Some are 1 brag point, others are 5 brag points, all the way up to 20 brag points. The kids that earn the most points during the summer will become eligible to win prizes at the end of the summer Play Unplugged Party sponsored by Lehi City. The party will also include a variety of family friendly activities that should be a lot of fun for the kids.
