Policies and Procedures Manual 1000—Governance and Organization

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
1101		8-5-2009	December 7, 2022

To the greatest extent possible, existing members of the Thomas Edison Charter Schools (TECS) governing board will seek out the best qualified individuals from the school parent organizations to run for, or be appointed to, open board positions or to fill board positions with expiring terms. Board member qualifications, expectations and behaviors may be found in the schools' philosophical policies. Also included are board structure, operations, functionality and purpose.

With regard to Governing Board members and the employment of their relatives, (or approving a relative of an employee as a board member) please refer to Exhibit A section 10, with the term "relative" defined in Utah Code 52-3-1e. (Prohibiting Employment of Relatives).

The school endorses and embraces a model of policy governance as its philosophical and procedural model for charter school board governance, that follows the procedures, strategic planning, and description of board duties set-forth in Dr. Brian L. Carpenter's book "the Seven Outs" (Figure Out, Find Out, Scope Out, Write Out, Carry Out, Measure Out, Shout Out).

Board members shall not solicit or approve requests from employees prior to receiving principal approval. Employees shall submit requests that require board action to the schools' principal for prior approval.

Meetings

Business Meetings

The purpose of business meetings is to foster communication between administrators, financial advisors, and board members. They are instrumental in helping board members gain a general knowledge of school operations. Board members attend business meetings on a rotating schedule. The attending board member communicates any applicable discussion items to subcommittee chairs/and or sends out a summary of discussion items of note to board members.

Business meetings will be held twice a month as needed. The location generally rotates between schools on a monthly basis.

Subcommittee Meetings

See Governing Board Procedures #1102a

Governing Board Meetings

Board meetings are held monthly, if needed, typically on the first Wednesday of the month. January – June meetings are held at Edison South; July – December meetings are held at Edison North. Occasionally, the board may need to hold additional board meetings due to scheduling conflicts, approval deadlines, or other unusual circumstances. See calendar for more details.

Training

Board training occurs at the state and school levels. The board president disseminates training information to all board members and helps ensure board member accountability for completion of training at both levels.

State Level Training: All board members will make good faith efforts to participate in trainings provided by the Utah State Board of Education (USBE) and Utah Association of Public Charter Schools (UAPCS). Board members will also make good faith efforts to attend training workshops offered by UAPCS. Board members attending state level trainings will coordinate efforts to summarize and share information with the board as a whole.

Board members will complete monthly training objectives that strengthen their working knowledge of the TECS program and their understanding of governance.

Evaluation & Goal Setting

Staff Feedback: Consistent with TECS policy, the board solicits staff feedback regarding the administration and governance of the schools. Staff feedback is collected via a mid-year survey where staff may write open-ended commentary using the governing board performance standards as a reference. Data will be shared with board members and a third party, such as the school's contracted business manager, who will help disaggregate and compile the data for the board to consider during self-evaluation.

Guided Self-Evaluation and Goal-Setting: Self-evaluation will be conducted at the individual, subcommittee and board levels. Using the performance standards and indicators as a guide, each board member will carefully consider their personal efforts for each standard and determine whether they need refinement, meet expectations, or exceed expectations. Board members will set personal goals to address standards that need refinement. Insights from this individual process will then be discussed in subcommittee. Guided by the performance standards and indicators, each subcommittee will then conduct a detailed review of the board's efforts in each standard to determine if they need refinement, meet expectations or exceed expectations, and set goals for improvement accordingly.

Governing Board Performance Standards and Indicators

The performance standards are guiding principles in fulfilling the responsibilities and oversight duties outlined by the state of Utah and TECS governing documents. The associated indicators, though not exhaustive, further define the performance standards and promote their practical application. The rubric on the following pages should be used during the annual board self-evaluation.

GOVERNING BOARD PROCEDURES (14 OF 26)

Introduction to Robert's Rules of Order (Robert's Rules of Order will be used as a guideline for conducting governing board meetings.)

Parliamentary Procedure is a set of rules for conduct at meetings, that allows everyone to be heard and to make decisions without confusion.

Parliamentary Procedure is important because it is a time tested method of conducting business at meetings and public gatherings. It can be adapted to fit the needs of any organization.

The method used by members to express themselves is in the form of moving motions. A motion is a proposal that the entire membership take action or a stand on an issue. Individual members can:

1. Call to order.
2. Second motions.
3. Debate motions.
4. Vote on motions.

There are four Basic Types of Motions:

1. Main Motions: The purpose of a main motion is to introduce items to the membership for their consideration. They cannot be made when any other motion is on the floor, and yield to privileged, subsidiary and incidental motions.
2. Subsidiary Motions: Their purpose is to change or affect how a main motion is handled, and is voted on before a main motion.
3. Privileged Motions: Their purpose is to bring up items that are urgent about special or important matters unrelated to pending business.
4. Incidental Motions: Their purpose is to provide a means of questioning procedure concerning other motions and must be considered before the other motion.

How are motions presented?

1. Obtaining the floor
   a. Wait until the last speaker has finished.
   b. Rise and address the Chairman by saying, "Mr. Chairman, or Mr. President"
   c. Wait until the Chairman recognizes you.
2. Make your motion
   a. Speak in a clear and concise manner.
   b. Always state a motion affirmatively. Say "I move that we…" rather than "I move that we do not…"
   c. Avoid personalities and stay on your subject.
3. Wait for someone to second your motion.
4. Another member will second your motion or the Chairman will call for a second.
5. If there is no second to your motion it is lost.
6. The Chairman states your motion
   a. The Chairman will say, "it has been moved and seconded that we…" Thus placing your motion before the membership for consideration and action.
   b. The membership then either debates your motion, or may move directly to vote.

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
1101a

   c. Once your motion is presented to the membership by the chairman it becomes “assembly property”, and cannot be changed by you without the consent of the members.
7. Expanding your motion
   a. The time to speak in favor of your motion is at this point in time, rather than at the time you present it.
   b. The mover is always allowed to speak first.
   c. All comments and debate must be direct at the Chairman.
   d. Keep to the time limit for speaking that has been established.
   e. The mover may speak again only after other speakers are finished, unless called upon by the Chairman.
8. Putting the question to the membership
   a. The Chairman asks, “Are you ready to vote on the question?”
   b. If there is no more discussion, a vote is taken.
   c. On a motion to move the previous question may be adapted.

Voting on a Motion:
The method of vote on any motion depends on the situation and the by-laws of policy of your organization. There are five methods used to vote by most organizations, they are:

1. By Voice -- The Chairman asks those in favor to say, "aye", those opposed to say "no". Any member may move for a exact count.
2. By Roll Call -- Each member answers "yes" or "no" as his name is called. This method is used when a record of each person's vote is required.
3. By General Consent -- When a motion is not likely to be opposed, the Chairman says, "if there is no objection ..." The membership shows agreement by their silence, however if one member says, "I object," the item must be put to a vote.
4. By Division -- This is a slight verification of a voice vote. It does not require a count unless the chairman so desires. Members raise their hands or stand.
5. By Ballot -- Members write their vote on a slip of paper, this method is used when secrecy is desired.

There are two other motions that are commonly used that relate to voting:

1. Motion to Table -- This motion is often used in the attempt to "kill" a motion. The option is always present, however, to "take from the table", for reconsideration by the membership.
2. Motion to Postpone Indefinitely -- This is often used as a means of parliamentary strategy and allows opponents of motion to test their strength without an actual vote being taken. Also, debate is once again open on the main motion.

To review:

1. Allow motions that are in order.
2. Have members obtain the floor properly.
3. Speak clearly and concisely.
4. Obey the rules of debate.
   Most importantly, BE COURTEOUS.

Recruitment

The rotating nature of the governing board presents unique challenges in maintaining consistency in board membership and activity. An informed and cohesive board requires ongoing focused effort in the recruitment of quality board candidates. The Policy & Personnel subcommittee and the principals lead these efforts.

Board Needs Analysis - September

- Identification of the board's strengths and weaknesses in its current membership composition, external opportunities and threats, and board member characteristics and specialized skills needed in the foreseeable future. This should include input from all current members.

Strategies To Identify Candidates - October/November

- Potential board candidates may be identified from among the TECS parent organizations and/or the community. The subcommittee will solicit recommendations from board members, TECS administration, staff and Parent Organizations.

Candidate Contact and Education - January/February

- Individuals recommended as potential board candidates will be contacted by a board member or principal and provided an invitation letter. Candidate education efforts should include attending board meetings, reviewing core documents, an introduction to principles of good governance, and ideally could include participating on ad-hoc committees as well.

Candidate Interviews, Screening, Recommendations, Appointments and/or Elections - March/April/ May

Appointment Procedures:

The board committee will thoroughly review applications, conduct reference checks and interview applicants. The committee will ensure that candidates are philosophically aligned, strongly committed to the program and able to make meaningful contributions. For appointed positions, the committee recommends an appointee for board approval. New board members are appointed at the May board meeting to begin their term on June 1.

Election Procedures:

In late March or early April, the board secretary ensures public notification of upcoming elections (i.e. newsletter, email, flyer, and/or website, etc.) at the appropriate school. Candidates must complete a board application, and any candidate who meets the requirements may run. Candidate information should be made available to the public, and the election should remain open for a week in April to allow parents ample time to place a vote. Election ballots should be counted by a minimum of two people. Winners are publicly announced at the May board meeting (although, as a courtesy, candidates should be thanked and made aware of the results following the election week), and begin serving on June 1.

Proposals, contracts, petitions, and other items that require a vote or action of the board shall be distributed (or emailed) to each board member a minimum of 2 calendar days before each scheduled meeting. Such distributed items shall be written concisely and logically such that each board member will understand a) the issue, b) the included pertinent associated data & information, and c) the action that is requested. It is recognized that emergency situations may occur that requires board action on issues that were not known before the 2-day deadline. However, in the event that state or local laws disallow such action on issues not properly publicized in advance, the executive committee shall call for an emergency meeting of the board to address emergency issues to take place at a later time, within the constraints of the law.

The agenda for the board meeting shall be established by the board executive committee and distributed (or emailed) to each board member a minimum of 24 hours before each scheduled meeting; however, efforts should be made to distribute agendas and actions before that.

Each board meeting shall be conducted according to a format described by Robert's Rules of Order.

Status reports and information presented at the meeting that requires no action from the board at that time, may optionally be distributed in advance, but is not required.

When calling for a vote of the board, the officer conducting the meeting may choose to either call for 1), a voice vote or 2), a vote by a show of hands (e.g. "….all in favor say aye" or " ….all in favor raise your hand").

During board meetings, all board members shall be mindful of the flow of business related to the agenda and should keep unrelated conversations to a minimum.

The board agenda shall include time for public verbal and written comments that are relevant to board policies and action items. A time limit may be applied to public comments to allow sufficient time for agenda items. If a member of the public wishes to address the board with a specific complaint about a staff member or principal, the individual will be encouraged to follow the steps outlined in the grievance policy, which involve a written appeal that can be investigated in a way that protects the privacy of the individuals involved.

Meeting Length: Care should be taken by the executive committee to ensure that the agenda will result in a meeting of reasonable length. Experience has shown that the board is most effective when the length of the board meeting is 90 minutes or less. With this in mind, the Board Meeting Length Procedure should be applied.

   a. The board officer conducting the meeting shall bring to the attention of the board that the meeting length would go well beyond 90 minutes if every agenda item were covered.
   b. The Board shall quickly discuss and decide which of the remaining items require consideration and/or action from the board at that time, and which items may be deferred until the next scheduled meeting.
   c. The meeting shall conclude after the selected items requiring consideration and/or action from the board are completed.
   d. Thomas Edison Charter Schools are publicly funded and bound by applicable federal and state laws governing non-profit and charitable organizations. In order to protect the financial interests and tax-exempt status of the schools, TECS prohibits any action that constitutes a conflict of interest in its contracts, agreements, transactions and services.

This policy applies to all "TECS representatives" defined as board members, administrators, key employees, consultants and volunteers who make or influence decisions on school contracts, agreements, transactions and services. Conflicts of interest occur when a TECS representative directly - or indirectly through business, investment, affiliation or family - stands to benefit financially from school-related contracts, agreements, transactions and services. Financial benefit includes direct and indirect renumeration as well as gifts or favors that are not substantial.

TECS representatives will complete a conflict of interest disclosure statement annually. Any TECS representative who has an interest in a contract or other transaction presented to the board or a committee thereof for authorization, approval, or ratification shall make a prompt and full disclosure of their interest to the board or committee prior to its acting on such contract or transaction. Such disclosure shall include any relevant and material facts known to such person about the contract or transaction that might reasonably be construed to be adverse to the school's interest.

No board member shall cast a vote on any matter which has direct bearing on services to be provided by that member, or any organization which such member represents or which such member has an ownership interest or is otherwise interested or affiliated, which would directly or indirectly financially benefit such member. All such services will be fully disclosed or known to the board members present at the meeting at which such contract shall be authorized. Additionally, no TECS representative with governing board delegated powers shall establish or authorize contracts, agreements, transactions and services in which such representative has a conflict of interest.

Staff

An employee who has an honest complaint regarding another employee must first address his or her concern in good faith with the other employee and work in a timely, reasonable and cooperative effort to resolve the concern. Government Records Access Management Act (GRAMA) Policy

Thomas Edison Charter Schools uphold:

- the rights of the public to fair and reasonable access to records of public business.
- individuals' rights to privacy regarding personal data gathered by government entities.

Accordingly, it is the policy of TECS to comply with the Government Records Access Management Act (GRAMA) enacted by the state legislature, as well as all federal laws governing the management of, and access to, the schools' records (as defined by Utah Code 63G-2-103). Legal mandates for managing and accessing student records are found in the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

Records Officer

The Principal of each campus will designate a Records Officer for his or her campus. The Records Officer will be trained and certified as mandated in Utah Code 63A-12-110. The Records Officer works with state archives in the care, maintenance, scheduling, designation, classification, disposal, and preservation of records (Utah Code 63G-2-103). The Records Officer works, as necessary, with the Principal and the Governing Board in classifying records and in reviewing and responding to GRAMA requests.

Classification of School Records

State law allows classification of a school record to occur prior to or following a request for access to the record, and TECS may reclassify a record or series of records at any time. TECS records will be classified under the following general categories:

- Public records as described in UCA § 63G-2-301;
- Private records as described in UCA § 63G-2-302;
- Controlled records as described in UCA § 63G-2-304;
- Protected records as described in UCA § 63G-2-305; and
- Limited records as described in UCA § 63G-2-201 (3)(b).

Access to School Records

- Every person has the right to inspect a public record free of charge.
- Every person has the right to take a copy of a public record during normal working hours (Sections 63G-2-203 and 63G-2-204).
- TECS will not disclose a record that is private, controlled, or protected to any person except as provided in GRAMA Subsections (5)(b) & (5)(c) or Sections 63G-2-202, 63G-2-206, or 63G-2-303.
- A person may request to inspect or receive copies of the school's records by submitting a written GRAMA request to the Records Officer.
- The Records Officer may, in consultation with the principal and as necessary, delegate to other staff the responsibility for compiling records in the GRAMA request.

GRAMA POLICY (2 OF 3)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date

- The Records Officer will ensure that records are disclosed as legally allowable within the time periods set forth in Utah Code 63G-2-204 and 205.
- Denials of access to school records must be approved by the Principal. In the event that a GRAMA request is denied in whole or part, the Records Officer will provide to the requester a notice of denial containing the following information:
    1. a description of the record or portions of the record to which access was denied, provided that the description does not disclose private, controlled, or protected information or information exempt from disclosure under Subsection 63G-2-201(3)(b);
    2. citations to the provisions of state or federal regulation that exempt the record or portions of the record from disclosure, provided that the citations do not disclose private, controlled, or protected information or information exempt from disclosure under Subsection 63G-2-201(3)(b);
    3. a statement that the requester has the right to submit a written appeal to the Governing Board; and
    4. the time limits for filing an appeal, and the name contact information of the TECS Governing Board president.

Fees

TECS reserves the right to charge a reasonable fee to cover the actual costs of providing a record as detailed in Section 63G-2-203. These costs include, but are not limited to, the cost of staff time (when such costs exceed fifteen minutes) and materials used in providing the record.

- Fees will reflect current market rates (such as hourly wages, copy costs, etc.) at the time of the request.
- Fees will be approved by the Principal.
- TECS may, at the discretion of the Records Officer and Principal, require payment of past fees and future estimated fees before beginning to process a request if fees are expected to exceed $50 or the requester has unpaid fees from previous requests.
- TECS may, at the discretion of the Records Officer and Principal, waive fees as allowable under Section 63G-2-203(4).

Appeals

Any person aggrieved by 1) the denial of a GRAMA request, or 2) a fee assessment for a GRAMA request, may appeal the determination within 30 days to the Governing Board by submitting a written notice of appeal under the directives of Section 63G-2-401. The principal/director shall not cause or allow any practice, activity decision, or organizational circumstance that is either unlawful, imprudent, or in violation of commonly accepted educational, business and professional ethics.

STRATEGIC OUTCOMES

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
1401		March 4, 2015	October 1, 2025

2019-2025

The strategic outcome goals below were written, where possible, to align with the education philosophy and mission statement of the school.

STRATEGIC OUTCOME 1:

Accessing available test data, administration will set goals at the beginning of the year. Then they will review and report on student proficiency and growth to the board on an annual basis as end of year test results are available.

STRATEGIC OUTCOME 2:

TECS students will meet or exceed the annual average growth compared to past cohorts as measured by the current trend-line on the in-house monthly testing report.

STRATEGIC OUTCOME 3:

TECS will achieve a *net promoter score of 60-80 on stakeholder surveys.

*A net promoter score (NPS) measures the willingness of customers to recommend a company's services. Customers or employees are asked, "On a scale of 0-10, how likely is it that you would recommend Thomas Edison Charter School to your friends, family or others?" Those that give you a 6 or below are detractors, a score of 7 or 8 are called passives, and a 9 or 10 are promoters. To calculate the Net Promoter Score, subtract the percentage of detractors from the percentage of promoters. Given the NPS range of -100 to +100, a “positive” score or NPS above 0 is considered “good”, +50 is “excellent,” and above 70 is considered “world class.”

STRATEGIC OUTCOME 4:

Directors of Instruction will report annually results from observations to determine if the 8:1 positive reinforcement ratio is being met.

STRATEGIC OUTCOME 5:

95% of TECS students in 1st-8th grades will achieve high citizenship (defined as “outstanding” and/or “satisfactory” grades) and 95% of 8th grade will indicate future plans to achieve in post-high school education or training in their PCCR.

STRATEGIC OUTCOME 6:

The number of students on the wait list will be at least 107% of capacity measured within one week after the lottery, and two weeks after school begins.

STRATEGIC OUTCOME 7:

Maintain a composite cash surplus of 5% or greater with a goal of paying off the remaining Direct Placement bond balance by June 30th, 2027.

PRINCIPAL EVALUATION POLICY (1 OF 3)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
1402		September 7, 2016	March 11, 2026

PURPOSE OF ADMINISTRATOR EVALUATION: Thomas Edison Charter Schools understand the crucial role the administrative team plays in the success of children. From instructional leadership to student discipline to personnel management to budget, these school leaders are the driving force behind the schools' success. Thus acknowledging the need for true leaders at the helm of TECS, the evaluation program functions as a tool for continuous improvement. Through feedback from staff and the Governing Board, administrators are provided insight into their leadership strengths and areas of needed growth. Identifying and reflecting upon trends in the feedback provides administrators the opportunity for significant progress. Progress leads to improvement. Improvement leads to success. Such success offers each student the greatest opportunity to achieve at the highest level.

OVERVIEW OF ADMINISTRATOR EVALUATION

Staff Feedback: Employees will be given the opportunity to provide anonymous feedback on each administrator. Using the performance standards as a reference, staff will write open-ended commentary on topics of their choice for a length of their choice. An anonymous survey will be sent to staff in the middle of the school year. The feedback from the survey will be shared with the Governing Board upon request.

Guided Self-Evaluation: Consistent with the Teacher Development Plan, each administrator will conduct a self-evaluation based upon the Performance Standards. This guided self-evaluation will be conducted with the administrator's direct supervisor, the Governing Board for principals and the principals for junior administrators. The administrator will indicate for each standard whether they feel they need refinement, meet expectations, or exceed expectations. Together, they will also celebrate successes and strengths as well as set goals to address areas in which they'd most like to improve.

ADMINISTRATOR COMPENSATION: In an effort to recruit and retain quality individuals, it is the intent of Thomas Edison Charter Schools to competitively compensate all employees, including administrators. Depending upon their assignment, there are three tiers in which an administrator will be compensated. The range indicates the minimum and maximum salaries in which the administrator may initially begin and eventually plateau. Beginning salaries will be determined by the hiring party which will weigh experience, performance, and a variety of other criteria. The hiring team will determine the amount of increase each year dependent upon the performance. Assuming stable budget circumstances, the yearly increase will be a minimum of $1,000. During the guided self-evaluation meeting, the supervisor will also present and review an employment offer for the following school year, to be ratified at the following Governing Board meeting (typically in February).

ADMINISTRATOR TRAINING PROGRAM (1 OF 3)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
1403		June 3, 2009	June 5, 2024

Purpose: The need for diligent, knowledgeable and positive leadership is necessary for any school. Understanding this and that the school atmosphere and success begins and ends with the principal, it is imperative that Thomas Edison Charter School train and maintain quality administrators throughout its existence. We are a unique school in philosophy, policy, programs and demands. Due to the abundance of our distinctive characteristics, the best way for the school to maintain educational prowess and integrity is to train and hire administrators groomed within the program.

Therefore, it is proposed that Thomas Edison Charter School adopt the accompanying Administrator Training Program (ATP). This program is designed to select, groom and prepare future administrators years before they step into their new, demanding role. This permits a smooth transition and an opportunity for future administrators to learn from the experience and knowledge of current administrators. The program focused on developing the skills and applying practical ideals. Our ATP accompanied with the formal education of a graduate degree will help ensure the continued success of TECS for decades to come.

Compensation: The school desires to attract and keep quality staff, including administrators. Considering this, and the fact that this program will require both time and effort, participants ought to be compensated for their efforts. The school will reimburse 75% of up to $15,000 on needed coursework related to administrative training for candidates participating in the ATP program.

*All payments will be added to the participant's monthly paycheck in equal quantities according to the projected time of program completion.

Application: As the training and compensation will certainly be an attraction to many staff members, it is important that an application process be in place. This will allow the current administration and governing board to select those prospects who seem most suitable for the position. Those desiring to apply will need to complete and submit to the principal:

1. the application attached at the end of this proposal,
2. a current resume,
3. and typed responses to the short answer questionnaire found on the application.

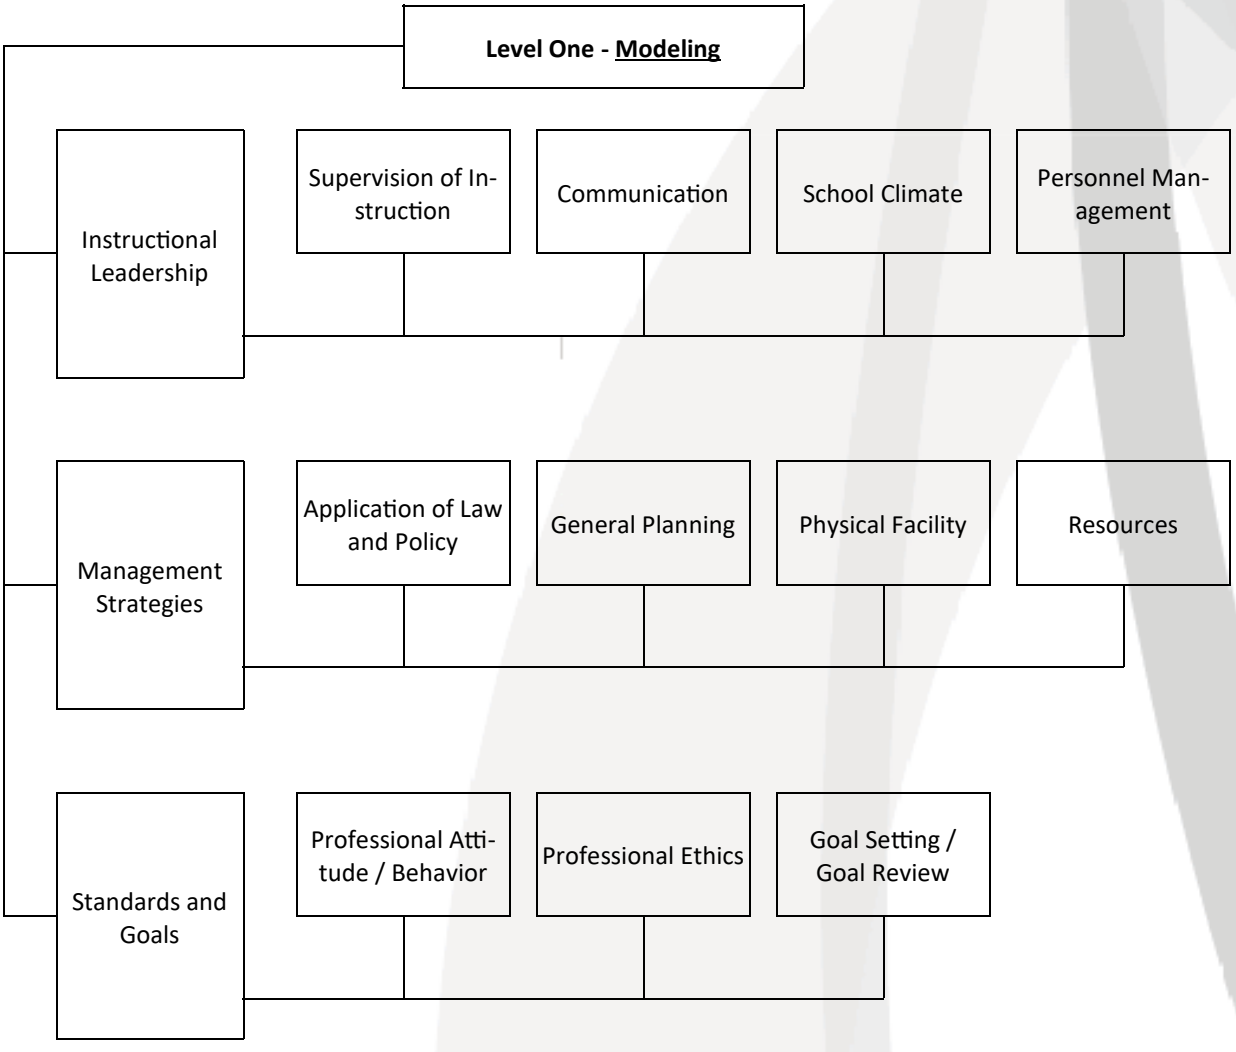

After reviewed by the principal, they will write and attach a statement detailing their opinions on the applicant's potential. The then completed application will be submitted to the governing board for final approval. Depending upon the number of applicants, an interview with the governing board may be used to determine those finalists accepted into the program.

ADMINISTRATOR TRAINING PROGRAM (2 OF 3)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
1403		June 3, 2009	June 5, 2024

ATP Overview: As the formal education of a graduate degree will focus on general, theoretical principles, the purpose of the ATP is to teach and link the practical to the conceptual. Following the school-adopted teaching philosophy of the Collin's Model, the program is divided into three levels: 1. Modeling 2. Coaching and 3. Scaffolding and Fading.

The program is organized and divided into four main categories: levels, concepts, items, and tasks. Each level (found in the Collin's Model stated above) is divided into three main concepts: Instructional Leadership, Management Strategies, and Standards and Goals. Under each concept are specific items accompanied with practical tasks to be learned, observed, or completed. As the participant completes all the tasks required for each item in every concept, he/she will be able to graduate to the next level. Here's a look at an example for a level one participant.

ADMINISTRATOR TRAINING PROGRAM (3 OF 3)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
1403		June 3, 2009	June 5, 2024

For each item the participant will write a minimum of one reflection. A reflection is a one to two paragraph summary of thoughts, impressions, and concepts learned within that item. They may choose to write it about the item as a whole or about individual tasks.

In addition to regular contact with each campus's respective principal, a joint meeting will be held with all participants and administration from both campuses monthly. This meeting will be a chance to discuss concepts, ask questions, and make plans for future training.

Once all items for every concept in the level have been completed, the participant is then ready to graduate to the next level. In order for the graduation to occur, the participant will need to apply by writing and submitting a one-page reflection of thoughts and impressions to the principal. Participants will also defend their understanding of concepts learned before a panel of two to three administrators. This will also be a time to evaluate one's own intentions and goals about school administration and an opportunity to synthesize concepts learned into a coherent whole.

A level one participant usually only observes. A level two participant actively contributes along side administrators. A level three participant completes tasks on his/her own, reporting back to administration on a consistent basis.

As a way to document progress and learning, participants will compile all documents for each level of the ATP into a portfolio. This personnel development compilation will include reflections, applications, administrator feedbacks, and any other pertinent document. The completed portfolio will be presented to a panel of administrators and governing board members at the final graduation interview. If the panel determines that the participant didn't show adequate understanding, they will give feedback as to what the participant needs to improve and set a time for a follow-up interview. Once the participant passes the final panel interview, he/she will successfully graduate from ATP and be awarded their certificate.

STUDENT REGISTRATION POLICY

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2101		April 8, 2003	September 30, 2026

It is the policy of Thomas Edison Charter Schools to abide by federal and state guidelines concerning student registration.

Students retained in Kindergarten will be ensured a place. Siblings of current students, children and grandchildren of founders, children and grandchildren of current governing board members, children of current employees, and transfer students from an affiliated campus will be given preference for enrollment. In the event preferred enrollment exceeds the capacity of any grade level, those potential students will be entered into their grade based on a preferential lottery. New students who do not have current siblings will be entered through a lottery process. Those students who are not selected will be placed on the waiting list in the order they are drawn from the lottery.

Student registration and enrollment may be denied for students who:

- have committed serious infractions of the law or school polices, including policies of the district in which enrollment is sought; or
- have been guilty of chronic misbehavior which would, if it were to continue after the student was admitted:
    - Endanger persons or property
    - Cause serious disruptions in the school; or
    - Place unreasonable burdens on school staff.
- have been expelled from any other school during the preceding 12 months.

The principal will resolve all enrollment concerns.

Legal guardians of new students who apply for enrollment are encouraged to observe in two classrooms, read prescribed school materials, and view video presentations prior to their student(s) being added to the lottery or admitted into the school.

Legal guardians of new K-4 students are encouraged to complete the 10 hour parent Spalding course. The school will provide various class dates and times.

It is the responsibility of the legal guardians to provide correct contact information.

Families who have a leave of absence approved by the principal may be eligible for preferential enrollment upon their return.

ENROLLMENT PROCEDURE

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2101a		April 8, 2003	October 4, 2023

The success of the Thomas Edison Charter Schools depends on many varied aspects of both the schools' programs and the personnel. Word-of-mouth advertising from satisfied parents and students as well as all other media advertising help to bring a prospective parent to the school; however, what they encounter once they are within our doors can depend a lot on their first impression.

As an alternative public school, we are responsible for helping a parent make the best choice for their student and, of course, we hope that choice will be their enrollment. Because of the nature of our society, many are interested in pursuing something different, but a little nervous about making a leap outside their comfort zone. It then becomes our responsibility to give them enough positive information so they are educated as to who we are and what we have to offer.

The following enrollment procedures are meant to guide a prospective parent through a search of that information. It is important to remember, however, that a confident, informative conversation explaining the schools' atmosphere, sense of purpose and professionalism can go a long way to helping a parent make their decision.

The following steps should be taken whenever a prospective parent is looking to enroll their students at our schools:

- Complete an enrollment form
- Observe in the classroom at the grade level being considered for 45 minutes
- Observe in another grade level for 45 minutes
- View and return the school's DVD
- Review the Parent Handbook
- Meet with an administrator

All personnel who work in a situation where they meet someone who is new to the school need to be familiar with all enrollment materials and they should understand their position of making that good first impression. A professional, confident, and informed approach to anyone entering the school is integral to the success of our program and is as much a part of the enrollment procedures as any of the steps listed above.

LOTTERY PROCEDURE (1 OF 2)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2101b		April 8, 2003	March 2016

ENROLLMENT: Applications will be accepted between now and noon on Xxxx YY, 20ZZ.

1. All currently enrolled students will be reenrolled for the next school year. If a family decides that a student will not be returning to Thomas Edison Charter School, they will let us know as soon as possible, so that we will know how many spaces will be open in each grade.
2. All current preferential wait-listed potential students will NOT need to reapply for the next school year. If necessary, they will be ordered in a preferential lottery.
3. Children whose new applications are received during the open enrollment period before noon on Xxx YY, 20ZZ will be entered in the regular lottery. The outcome of that lottery will establish their acceptance or wait-listed position for the 20ZZ-20ZA school year.
4. Each child whose new application is received after noon on Xxx YY, 20ZZ will not be entered into the lottery, but will be added to the bottom of the 20ZZ-20ZA wait list for his or her grade AFTER all lottery students. He or she will maintain that position until the end of the school year, and will be included in future lotteries.
5. The lottery will be conducted in an open, public meeting to be held about B:CC pm on Xxx YY, 20ZZ. See the lottery procedure below.
6. Before school starts, parents of accepted students have one week from the date of notification of acceptance to complete the necessary registration paperwork. Students whose paperwork is not completed within one week of notification will lose their place, and a wait-listed student will be accepted instead. After school starts, parents have one complete school day from the date of notification of acceptance to complete the necessary registration paperwork before giving up their spot.
7. Thomas Edison Charter School cannot create wait lists for classes beyond the 20ZZ-20ZA school year because a lottery system is used to determine which new students will be offered spaces for coming years. All children on wait lists are re-entered into the lottery each year, regardless of the previous year's position. Therefore, adding a very young child in advance to the school's wait list provides no advantage. Acceptance to Thomas Edison Charter School is offered to wait-listed children only through the lottery for that specific school year. Note: This may change at a future time if Thomas Edison Charter School chooses NOT to accept federal funds.
8. In accordance with Utah Law, children must turn five before September 1, 20ZZ to attend any public charter school for the 20ZZ-20ZA school year. Applications received for children who do not turn five before September 1, 20ZZ will not be entered into this year’s lottery.
9. Legal guardians of new K-4 students are expected to complete the 10 hour parent Spalding course. The school will provide various class dates and times.

LOTTERY PROCEDURE (2 OF 2)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2101b		4-8-2003	March 2016

LOTTERY

A. The intention of Thomas Edison Charter School's lottery procedure is to keep families together to the greatest extent possible, while allowing equal opportunity for all students to get into the school. Since the grade at which the most new students and families will come into the school each year is Kindergarten, the lottery will begin with that grade and work up.

B. Federal law allows the following exemptions from the lottery process: 1) students continuing from the previous year, 2) waitlisted siblings of students already attending the school, 3) children or grandchildren of founders, 4) children or grandchildren of current governing board members, 5) children of current employees, or 6) students who are transferring from an affiliated campus. Waitlisted students in classes that are filled before the lottery begins, will be ordered in a preferential lottery.

C. The lottery will identify which students fill the open slots of each class. After a class is filled, the lottery will determine the waitlist order of students who have siblings already accepted by the school or who applied for enrollment by noon on Xxx YY, 20ZZ. That order will be maintained throughout the school year, until the lottery for the subsequent school year is held*.

- Note: If Thomas Edison Charter School chooses not to accept federal funds at a future date, the enrollment selection process may change, but would still adhere to Utah State law.

+ Note: Siblings who are applying for the first time will receive preference only after one of the siblings has been accepted.

D. The lottery is performed by the drawing of student names from containers by hand or by using a random number generator or other electronic means.

E. If necessary, the sibling lottery (for waitlisted siblings) is performed by a random draw for each of the grades that would be oversubscribed with continuing students plus waitlisted siblings.

F. Next, the transferring student lottery is performed by a random draw for each of the grades that would be oversubscribed with previously places students plus transferring students.

G. Next, the regular lottery is performed by the drawing of names of students who applied before noon on Xxx YY, 20ZZ, beginning with Kindergarten and then working up to grade 8.

H. When a child's name is drawn and accepted, their siblings in other grades will be given preference and accepted or ordered accordingly.

I. When a child's name is drawn in a grade that is filled, their name is added to a waiting list in the order it was drawn.

PARTICIPATION AT BOUNDARY SCHOOLS POLICY

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2104		November 4, 2015

Thomas Edison Charter Schools are supportive of ninth grade students who qualify to participate in co-curricular and extracurricular activities at their boundary high schools.

Eligibility: TECS students and their parents/guardians assume responsibility for meeting all eligibility requirements stipulated by the boundary high school and the Utah High School Activities Association. These include, but are not limited to: academic performance, attendance, fees, sportsmanship, citizenship, and physical evaluation requirements. TECS students and their parents/guardians assume all responsibility for transportation to and from co-curricular and extracurricular activities at boundary high schools.

Notification: TECS students who desire to participate in co-curricular or extracurricular activities at boundary high schools must communicate their intention to the TECS administration in a timely manner prior to trying out or participating in the desired activity. Thereafter, students must provide TECS with the following written notifications:

- Verification of participation from the boundary school coach or teacher responsible for the activity
- A comprehensive schedule of practices and competitions for which the student will need to be off-campus
- A list of responsible adults allowed to check out/transport TECS students to co-curricular/ extracurricular activities

Class Schedules: TECS students and their families assume all responsibility for meeting state and local district high school graduation requirements. TECS will make reasonable efforts to design class schedules that allow students to participate at boundary high schools. TECS students and their families must be supportive of TECS efforts to accommodate participation by showing flexibility and cooperation in creating the student's class schedule. (Ex., students participating in sports teams must be willing to be scheduled for a 7^{th} period physical education course at TECS.) These schedules will be determined on a case-by-case basis.

Fees: TECS will pay the annual required school participation fee of $75.00 per student to the boundary school at which the student desires to participate. This fee allows the student to participate in all extracurricular school activities, as defined in Utah Code R277-494-1E, during the school year for which the student is qualified and eligible. Students are responsible to pay their individual participation fees and activity fees, as defined by the boundary school district.

LANGUAGE ASSISTANCE POLICY

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2105		August 2, 2023

Language assistance is important to ensure parental involvement and understanding of parents' role in the educational success of their students. It is the policy of Thomas Edison Charter Schools to provide language assistance as described below to students learning English, their parents, and their families. It is recommended that the school interpreter(s) be faculty/staff of Thomas Edison Charter Schools that are familiar with school policies and procedures. They may also be interpreters that have been contracted through the school to provide specific translation services. Parents of students learning English may also bring in an interpreter of their choosing. Technological tools may be used for interpretation when communication is informal, immediate in nature, and contains no sensitive student information. Technological translation may also be used if the language of preference is uncommon enough that a translator cannot be secured.

The school shall provide an interpreter to assist students learning English and their parents in the following:

- impromptu and scheduled office visits or phone calls
- enrollment or registration processes
- the IEP process
- student educational and occupational planning processes
- student disciplinary meetings
- Back to School Night
- Parent Teacher Conferences
- other interactions between the parents of a student learning English and educational staff

If requested in advance with sufficient notice, the school may also provide an interpreter for:

- classroom activities involving parents
- school community councils (LAND Trust)
- governing board meetings

The following written communications may be provided in a preferred language upon request. The school may also use oral or technological translations as appropriate.

- registration materials
- home language surveys
- WIDA entrance and exit notifications
- assignment instructions, when it is a large project such as a science or history fair
- report cards or other progress reports, when available in the preferred language
- summary of student discipline policies and procedures
- grievance procedures and notices of rights and nondiscrimination

STUDENT DISCIPLINE POLICY

Policies and Procedures Manual 2000—Students and Parents

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2201		January 16, 2003

It is the policy of the Thomas Edison Charter Schools to have students follow the school rules at all times, as specified in the procedures manual. The discipline plan is intended to teach appropriate behavior following the Glenn Latham model. All disciplinary practices include a deep regard for the dignity of the child.

Any disciplinary actions requiring office intervention will follow the methods and levels as defined in the Procedures Manual.

STUDENT DISCIPLINE PROCEDURES (1 OF 5)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2201a

At Thomas Edison Charter Schools, our discipline plan is intended to teach appropriate behavior following the Glenn Latham model. Any disciplinary practice must include a deep regard for the dignity of the child. Remember that words used at the wrong time, in the wrong way, can do great harm. Being a model of civility is more important than telling someone how to act.

Tardies: Parents are expected to teach their children the importance of punctuality. The bell rings five minutes before school starts and children should be at the school before that time. If a child comes to school after attendance is taken, the child must first report to the office to be removed from the absence list. This makes the child even later for class. Tardiness is disruptive to the learning process. It has a negative impact on the entire class, not just the child who is tardy. After the child is tardy 4 times a letter will be sent to parents indicating the concern with an acknowledgement that emergencies and special circumstances will be considered. A similar letter will be sent when 8 tardies have occurred. After a child has been tardy 12 times during the school year, it is evident that the tardiness is based on the lifestyle, choices or circumstances of the parents; therefore, all efforts toward correcting the problem will be directed at the parents. Those parents will be encouraged to find another school that better accommodates their circumstance, or to develop habits of punctuality that reflects respect, courtesy, and the value of school and the educational it offers to children.

Basic Discipline Guidelines: The following guidelines are designed to help in the ongoing task of discipline: Classroom discipline implies that students:

- Raise their hands to speak
- Get permission to get out of their seats
- Follow the teacher's directions
- Show respect at all times for adults, fellow students, as well as private and public property.

Consistency and fairness are basic foundations to a good discipline program.

Teacher Interaction Procedure for each of the Levels 1-4: Following the Glenn Latham model the teacher approaches the misbehaving child (as privately as possible) and in a quiet voice, follows these six steps:

1. Says something positive
2. Briefly describes the problem behavior
3. Describes the desired alternative behavior
4. Gives a reason why the new behavior is more desirable
5. Practices the desired behavior
6. Provides positive feedback.

Repeat offenses: Assess why the misbehavior is escalating. Is the inappropriate behavior receiving inadvertent reinforcement? Are the levels of positive interactions with the child high enough? Is the child being attended to only when he or she misbehaves? Remember that even negative feedback to a child can become a reinforcement of the behavior.

STUDENT DISCIPLINE PROCEDURES (3 OF 5)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2201a

Discipline—LEVELS OF DISCIPLINE

Below are listed the discipline levels under which we operate. Most problems should be handled in the following manner:

- LEVEL ONE: Warning from the teacher or supervisor. The child should be called aside from the rest of the students. Clarify for the child the problem generated by his/her actions. Do not threaten the child with disciplinary action, but communicate to the child how important it is not to do whatever has been done. Also clarify for the child your behavioral expectations.

- LEVEL TWO: Teacher discipline. At this level, call the child aside from the rest of the students to discuss behavioral expectations. Once again, clarify with the child what has been done, what problem is generated by that action, and inform the child that because of that action a specific consequence will be invoked. Again, state what expectations you have for the student. Each teacher should have at least two levels of level two disciplinary consequences.

- LEVEL THREE: Teacher discipline – Parent notified. Even though this takes time, this is a crucial step for long-term solutions to any disciplinary problem. First, talk with the child apart from the rest of the students. Clarify for the child what it is that has occurred, and what problem is generated by this action. Inform the child of the consequence of their actions, and that you will be communicating with their parents. Inform the parents either by note, or preferably, by phone, what the problem is and what has been done. Ask the parents for ideas on their perceptions of the child's behavior and their most effective techniques in dealing with their child. Be sure that if you communicate via note that your intent is exactly clear and that some form of communication is received back from the parent regarding the situation. Be sure to let the parent know that any further disruption will need further action. This step should be completed within one day of the infraction. The disciplinary consequences are to be more severe than Level Two actions.

- LEVEL FOUR: Teacher, Parent, Child Conference. This is a critical step in avoiding a breakdown in the disciplinary process. If a child has not responded to the previously mentioned levels of discipline, or an incident of sufficient magnitude occurs (considered to be quite serious), inform the child of your desire to visit with them at an appropriate time (a.m. recess, lunch, after school, etc.). Let the tone of your voice carry the seriousness of your intent.

STUDENT DISCIPLINE PROCEDURES (4 OF 5)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2201a			November 7, 2024

When alone with the child, clarify for the child the inappropriateness of the behavior, your disappointment, and that a teacher, parent, child conference is required. The amount of time between the infraction and the parent meeting could be as much as three days, but must take place. Set up a time with the parents to actually meet together with the child. Before meeting with the child, the teacher should meet with the parent and predetermine what will be said and what action will be taken. The action needs to be more severe than Level Three actions. Approach this meeting with a problem-solving attitude to insure parent cooperation and support.

The Level Four disciplinary form must be signed by the child, the parent, and the teacher and a copy given to the principal. (Form found in Templates section)

- LEVEL FIVE: Principal Discipline, Parent Notified. This is a last step level designed to be used only when the above level steps have been tried and completed without curtailment of an ongoing activity or the severity of an incident may necessitate this action. This discipline can range from a lecture to long-term suspension. Parent notification may include a conference, note or phone call, depending on the circumstances.

- LEVEL SIX: Mandatory principal, parent, teacher, child conference. At this level of disciplinary action a serious situation exists. The child's actions have either been extreme or repetitive to the point of needing a major change in attitude or requiring a major consequence (suspension or expulsion from school). The principal and the parent will meet first to agree on a course of action. The teacher will then be involved and help to determine the school's role in altering the child's behavior. Finally the child will be brought into the office and informed of the consequences and behavior altering steps necessary to affect the expected change.

- LEVEL SEVEN: In school suspension, short-term suspension, long-term suspension, or expulsion. (Student, parent, teacher, principal conference required)

It is the policy of Thomas Edison Charter School that students and parents will be provided due process. The appeals must be in writing and copies must be given to the director and a member of the governing board. Due Process means that a parent of a child may challenge any disciplinary action taken with their child.

STUDENT DISCIPLINE PROCEDURES (5 OF 5)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date

Due Process means that a parent of a child may challenge any disciplinary action taken with their child. To do this a parent or legal guardian needs to write a letter of disagreement and give a copy to the principal and the governing board.

General School Rules: Teachers are expected to teach their classroom the general school rules on the first day of school. The school rules are as follows:

1. Be polite, courteous and exercise safe behavior at all times.
2. Keep hands and feet to yourself at all times.
3. Stay on the school grounds during school hours. Keep hands and feet off fences. Stay in supervised areas at all times unless you have written permission.
4. Be respectful in talking with and interacting with adults. Talking back is not allowed.
5. Students will treat one another with acceptance and respect. Name calling, swearing and bad language will not be tolerated.

6. At a predetermined time, a lunchroom monitor will instruct class to clean their eating area, throw their garbage away, and line up at the door. A lunchroom monitor will escort students out to recess, allowing time to silently put lunch boxes away and get coats and jackets.
7. Students who misbehave will be assigned a seat away from main tables ("benched") to finish their lunch.
8. There will be no playing in Gym during Lunch.
9. Lunch is the only time that food may be eaten. There should be no food on playground or in classroom.

LUNCH AND RECESS PROCEDURES (2 OF 2)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2201b

Notes:

- Teachers need to teach and maintain the order of this system, current policy and rules with students. The expectation is excellence. Consistency and training are the keys to success. Students talking will be sent back with an aide to re-walk in silence. Apply your steps of instruction (Modeling, coaching, scaffold and fade, etc.)
- Recess and lunchroom monitors need to be a part of the learning process and need to know expectations and how to use positive reinforcement during these times to improve student's behavior.
- Line up times can be used for drills or instructions about what will happen when the class gets to their destination.
- Buddy System – Use a buddy system for students. Students are never allowed to go anywhere alone; they always have an assigned classmate. When we see students alone in the hall, we know something is not right. This also protects the students.
- If a parent sends a note not allowing a student to go to recess, it is the teacher's responsibility to make arrangements and communicate with recess monitors.

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2202			March 12, 2025

ATTENDANCE AND TARDINESS POLICY

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2208			March 12, 2025

Thomas Edison Charter School is committed to ensuring every student receives an exceptional education. Consistent attendance is a vital factor to school success. This is especially true in Thomas Edison's academically rigorous environment. It is important that students be in attendance every possible day. Absences create major obstacles for both students and teachers and inhibit academic growth. Parents are expected to plan family vacations during school vacation time. Student health appointments should be scheduled outside of school time whenever possible.

When a student is absent, the parent or guardian should notify the school office by the beginning of the school day and inform the attendance secretary of the reason. Valid excused absences include: illness, death of a family member or close friend, a family emergency, a medical or dental appointment that cannot be scheduled outside the school day, an approved school activity, an absence permitted by a student's IEP, or a pre-approved family event. Students and/or parents are also responsible for contacting the teacher to make up missed school work and homework.

Parents are expected to teach their children the importance of punctuality which reflects respect, courtesy, and the value of education. Students should be at school in time to attend Morning Greeting each day. Tardiness is disruptive to the learning process. It has a negative impact on the entire class, not just the child who is tardy.

Thomas Edison Charter School is charged with the responsibility of enforcing Utah's compulsory education laws and ensuring that the school meets the attendance component of Annual Yearly Progress which is 93% school-wide average attendance. Chronic absenteeism and/or tardiness will result in school disciplinary action or other measures as required by state law.

This notice shall:

1. Be served on the parent/guardian by personal service or certified mail.
2. Direct the parent/guardian to meet with school authorities to discuss the student's attendance problem and cooperate with the Principal and Board to secure regular attendance by the student.
3. Designate the school authorities with whom the parent/guardian is required to meet.

If school personnel have reason to believe that, after a notice of compulsory education violation is issued, the parent/guardian has failed to make a good faith effort to ensure that the school-age child receives an appropriate education, the issuer of the compulsory education violation shall report to the Division of Child and Family Services the information required by Utah Code 53G-6-202.

Notice of Truancy for Students in Grades 7-8

Consistent with Section 53G-6-203, TECS may issue a notice of truancy to a school-age child in grade 7 or above, who is at least 12 years old, and is truant at least five times during the school year.

This notice shall:

STUDENT PERSONAL ELECTRONIC DEVICE POLICY (1 OF 2)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2211		June 14, 2023	November 5, 2025

Thomas Edison Charter Schools does not allow students to use personal electronic devices, especially electronic communication devices, during school hours. These devices include but are not limited to cell phones, satellite phones, smartphones, smartwatches, any device with communication abilities, and any emerging technology that has or will be able to act in place of or an extension of an individual's cell phone. It is the belief of Thomas Edison Charter Schools that these devices are a source of student distraction, disrupting academic learning and performance. Use of devices during the school day is not permitted unless specifically allowed under school policy. Students may not check their personal electronic devices at any time during school hours.

The school strongly recommends that personal electronic devices be left at home. However, if a student brings a device to school, it must be turned off and stored in a locker or backpack from the time the student arrives on school premises until the dismissal bell at the end of the day. Students may turn on their personal electronic devices after the dismissal bell at the end of the day only to communicate with parents, guardians, or a person providing transportation. Any other use of a personal electronic device is inappropriate and prohibited while on school property.

If a student is found using a personal electronic device, or other students are found using their personal electronic device, outside he parameters listed above, the device will be confiscated and taken to the principal's office. A parent or guardian MUST be the one to come pick up the personal electronic device from the principal's office. The purpose of this is to allow the principal or assistant principal to help the student and parent understand the personal electronic device policy.

Student safety is of utmost importance to Thomas Edison Charter Schools. It is not only the responsibility of the school to keep students safe but also to be aware of any student needs. As part of this, communication between parents and their students should always be done through the school's front office. This allows the school to relay information not only to students but to administration and teachers when necessary. The better communication the school has with parents about student needs, the better the school can keep students safe. The schools have a student phone which students may use at any time when they communicate their needs to their teachers and/or aides. Parents are free to call the school at any time to relay information to their students or to get in contact with their students.

Exceptions to the Personal Electronic Device Policy

Students may not use personal electronic devices on school property, except in the following situations:

1. IEP or 504 Plan Accommodation
    - The device is required as part of the student's Individualized Education Program (IEP) or Section 504 Plan.
2. Medical Necessity
    - The device is needed to manage a documented medical condition.
3. School Administration Authorizes Use For:
    - Imminent Safety Threat

SUBSTANCE MISUSE AND PREVENTION POLICY

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2212		October 4, 2023

Thomas Edison Charter Schools are drug-free campuses. Use, possession, or distribution of controlled substances by students or staff is prohibited on school grounds, including at school-sponsored events or extracurricular activities. Controlled substances include alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, electronic cigarettes, drugs, and drug paraphernalia.

TECS will offer instruction on avoiding alcohol, tobacco, electronic cigarettes, and other drug use at each grade level and distribute the expectations of conduct to students and staff each year. Utah Code requires a, "school-based underage drinking and substance abuse prevention program" for students in the following grade levels: 4th or 5th; 7th or 8th; 9th or 10th. Botvin's Life Skills Training is offered to meet this requirement, as it is a research-validated prevention program proven to reduce the risk of substance abuse and other risky behaviors.

If a student is believed to be in possession of controlled substances, TECS employees will follow the procedures outlined in the Search and Seizure Policy for their confiscation and disposal. If a student is found with a controlled substance on school grounds, parents will be notified, and the student may be suspended or expelled from school in accordance with the school's Student Discipline Procedures and Utah Code 53G-8-205. Law enforcement agencies may be notified, depending on the nature of the incident.

PARENT ORGANIZATION POLICY (1 OF 2)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
2301		March 4, 2015

Strong parental involvement is a foundational tenet of Thomas Edison Charter Schools. TECS recognizes the crucial role parents play in the schools' success and the subsequent need for an organized body to coordinate effort in this regard, namely, a Parent Organization. Immediately upon enrolling a student at TECS, parents and guardians become members of the TECS Parent Organization (P.O.) at the campus their student attends. The TECS Parent Organization adheres to all state laws, TECS Charter directives, and associated TECS policies and procedures.

Purpose

The purpose of the Parent Organization is to:

- Act and operate as a school support organization under the oversight of the Governing Board and the direction of the school Principal
- Facilitate and increase parent involvement at in-school and extra-curricular activities approved by the schools and the Governing Board
- Assist and support the administrative staff
- To provide appropriate activities, approved by the school and the Governing Board, for students and their parents, that create a sense of community, education, growth, and enjoyment
- Raise funds for the support of school activities approved by the schools and the Governing Board

Organizational Structure

- The TECS Charter identifies the Principal as the head of the Parent Organization at his or her respective campus.
- The Principal is assisted in directing P.O. efforts by a Parent Organization Council at each campus.
- Each campus may determine the specific composition of the P.O. Council positions (ex. Executive Council, President, President-Elect, Fundraising, Activities, etc.).
- It is preferred that P.O. Council positions are filled by election, however, in the event of an absence of multiple candidates for a particular position these positions may be appointed.
- In order to maintain the integrity of the organization and to ensure compliance with state law and school policy, each campus should generate a general handbook or set of directives (approved by the Principal and Governing Board) outlining organizational structure, responsibilities and procedures in addition to the general expectations listed below.

Parent Organization Council Qualifications, Expectations and Behavioral Guidelines

P.O. Council members should:

- Have a firm conviction of the schools' philosophy, purpose, and mission
- Exemplify integrity, honesty, and respect
- Be familiar with the TECS Charter, Parent Handbook, and associated school policies
- Promote the schools' mission and act for the good of the organization as a whole
- Avoid personal conflicts of interest, particularly in fiscal and curricular matters
- Promote positive public relations with students, parents, staff, and members of the community

PARENT ORGANIZATION POLICY (2 OF 2)

Financial Guidelines

- Each P.O. may maintain a separate bank account for P.O. funds in coordination with the schools' financial manager.
- Transparency in financial matters will be maintained. Each P.O. will generate an annual report specifying how funds were raised and distributed.
- Fundraising activities and P.O. budget expenditures will be approved by the Principal.
- Each P.O will minimize organizational risk and ensure the protection and appropriate use of funds by establishing an internal system of financial procedures that reflect school fiscal policies.
- Each P.O. will provide a detailed accounting and reconciliation of revenues and expenditures to the governing board audit committee on an annual basis.

TEACHER COMPENSATION PLAN (1 of 4)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
3101		June 30, 2008	April 10, 2024

Purpose of Teacher Professional Development and Compensation Plan

Since students are more likely to succeed if provided quality instruction, Thomas Edison Charter Schools are committed to putting the best teachers available in front of each class. In addition to recruiting and hiring those with the greatest potential, Thomas Edison trains and develops all instructional personnel to potentially become master teachers.

Being a unique school necessitates a unique professional development and compensation plan. Thomas Edison desires teachers to learn and grow within the program, develop over time, and finally become master, mentor teachers who are not only influential to those students they teach, but also newer faculty members. Thus, all of our students are provided the best instructional staff possible and therefore the best possible opportunity to succeed.

Overview of Teacher Professional Development and Compensation Plan

Thomas Edison Charter School's "Level and Range" compensation model rewards teachers who excel in the classroom and provides an opportunity for more rapid salary growth. Traditional compensation systems fail to encourage rapid professional development, rewarding teacher longevity more than performance. Instead of being time-based, our plan is performance-based. Compensation is therefore directly linked to its companion document, the "Teacher Evaluation and Development Plan."

- Levels – Thomas Edison's Compensation Plan initially assigns a teacher to one of five levels based upon their incoming experience and education. They will subsequently move up from one level to the next according to their years of service, relevant higher levels of training, yearly teacher evaluations by administrators, and their performance relative to the level criteria. In fact, a decision to move from one level to the next is more heavily weighted by observations and evaluations by administrators and level criteria performance than anything else. Each level has a higher base salary associated with it.

- Ranges – As some levels have minimum year requirements before one can move to the next, the plan provides an avenue for salary gains within each level; these are referred to as "Column Two Adjustments." If one has yet to meet the minimum requirements to move up a level but their teacher evaluations and level criteria performance indicate that they merit a raise, administrators may add additional compensation within the predetermined ranges for the corresponding level.

As teachers progress up the levels and receive greater compensation, they will be required to take on additional duties as later outlined. All salary decisions are also subject to the current year's budget.

LEVEL CRITERIA MINIMUMS

In order to move up from one level to the next, the following criteria at a minimum must be met in addition to successful teacher evaluations. Administrators will determine other criteria beyond what is described.

- Level One – Beginning
  - Have a bachelor's degree and little to no professional teaching experience
  - Complete the Writing Road to Reading – One Spalding class with an A or B

- Level Two – Growing
  - At least one year teaching experience as a level one teacher at TECS, two years successful teaching experience outside the program, or no teaching experience yet having relevant additional training
  - Complete the Writing Road to Reading – Two Spalding class with an A or B
  - Show quality performance and progress on observations and evaluations.

- Level Three – Refining
  - At least two years teaching experience as a level two teacher at TECS or six years successful teaching experience outside the program
  - Relevant additional training, such as a master's degree, is preferred.

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
3101

- Complete all Spalding classes with an A or B
- Show quality performance and progress on observations and evaluations.

❖ Level Four – Mentoring

- At least three years teaching experience as a level three teacher at TECS or ten years successful teaching experience outside the program
- Relevant additional training, such as a master's degree, is preferred.
- Complete all Spalding classes with an A or B
- Show quality performance and progress on observations and evaluations.

❖ Level Five – Master Teacher

- At least four years successful teaching experience as a level four teacher at TECS.
- Relevant additional training, such as a master's degree, is preferred.
- Working towards being a certified Spalding trainer where applicable
- Consistently score superiors on evaluations.

Teacher Duties and Expectations

It is anticipated that level one and two teachers will focus on personal professional development of exceptional classroom instructional skills. Level four and five teachers expand their focus to the development of skills to benefit other teachers and the instructional program as a whole. Level three teachers are beginning the transition between the two. Generally speaking, teachers at the earlier levels are to be eager learners; those at the advanced levels are to be eager mentors. Below is an outline of minimum duties and expectations for teachers at the various levels.

❖ Levels One and Two

- Show a working knowledge of the program's philosophy, policies, and procedures as outlined in our core documents (charter, teacher handbook, parent handbook, etc.). Read each not less than once per year.
- Show successful implementation of Spalding strategies and the Collin's Model of instruction.
- Show successful implementation of classroom management strategies as outlined by Dr. Glenn Latham and other provided materials.
- Attend, participate in, and implement strategies learned at faculty meetings, trainings, in-service meetings, and other mentoring circumstances.

❖ Level Three

- Show a working knowledge of the program's philosophy, policies, and procedures as outlined in our core documents (charter, teacher handbook, parent handbook, etc.). Read each not less than once per year.
- Continue to learn from and implement strategies discussed at faculty meetings, trainings, in-service meetings, and other mentoring circumstances.

- Begin to transition to becoming a mentor leader as outlined below.

❖ Levels Four and Five

- Show a working knowledge of the program's philosophy, policies, and procedures as outlined in our core documents (charter, teacher handbook, parent handbook, etc.). Read each not less than once per year.
- Continue to learn from and implement strategies discussed at faculty meetings, trainings, in-service meetings, and other mentoring circumstances.
- Become a mentor leader. The following are examples of tasks one might be asked to participate in:
  - Conduct a workshop training during in-service meetings
  - Act in the capacity of a team leader for a grade level
  - Participate in the hiring process of new teachers
  - Write letters of recommendation for those you've mentored
  - Conduct parent training sessions
  - Prepare and implement specific curricular or instructional improvements
- Level four and five teachers are to be the models to whom the school community turns. Their positive, diligent, and team-oriented nature sets the tone for the culture of the school. Their consistent strength provides a solid base for the rest of the staff to stand upon.

This delegation of duties represents a continuous path of professional improvement and therefore is not meant to be restrictive. A level one teacher can (and should) be just as strong of a leader as a level five. A level five teacher can (and should) be just as diligent of a learner as a level one. This outline strives to emphasize the natural pattern that should take place as a new teacher grows and develops into a master teacher.

PERSONNEL BENEFITS POLICY (1 OF 3)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
3102		December 4, 2022	November 6, 2024

It is the policy of Thomas Edison Charter Schools to offer personnel benefits that are competitive with the local school districts. All personnel benefits plans will be reviewed annually and may be adjusted to meet organizational needs, maintain fiscal viability and reflect changes in the local and national markets.

Medical Benefits

Full-time salaried employees are eligible to receive up to full-family medical insurance coverage.

"Part-time" salaried employee eligibility for medical insurance coverage is defined as follows:
a) .75– 0.99 FTE; board will pay 100% of individual coverage 'or' 75%- 99% (based on corresponding FTE) of two-party or family coverage. Employee pays the balance.
b) Less than .75 FTE; no coverage.

Employees who have medical insurance through an alternate plan may choose to waive TECS medical insurance coverage. Upon proof of alternate insurance, employees are eligible to choose one of the following monthly school contribution options:

1. $200 contribution into a Health Reimbursement Account (HRA) to be used by the employee for medical expenses. This money will accumulate from month to month and year to year during employment at TECS. Any unused balance will revert to the school in the event the staff member leaves employment with TECS.
2. $200 additional 401k contribution each month. Vesting of these funds is consistent with the vesting schedule of all other 401k contributions.
3. $180 stipend (This amount is lower than Option 1 or 2 because it reflects the payroll taxes the school must pay on the stipend.)

Non-salaried part-time employees will not receive benefits unless specified in a written letter of understanding from the governing board. Optional coverage such as Dental and Vision may be offered in a cafeteria type plan. A Health Reimbursement Account (HRA) may also be included as part of TECS medical benefits.

Retirement Benefits

The school retirement benefit plan is designed to be highly competitive with the Utah Retirement System benefit plan other state employees receive. All 0.5 – 1.0 FTE salaried employees are eligible to receive the 'defined contribution' retirement benefit plan adopted by the school. Any other employee who works equal to or greater than 30 hours per week during the school year shall also be eligible to receive retirement benefits adopted by the school. The schools' contribution amounts are based on the number of years the employee has been employed at TECS. Eligible employees who sign up on the school retirement plan will receive the following contributions into their retirement account:

0-4 yrs.: 7% of base salary
5-9 yrs.: 9% of base salary
10+ yrs.: 13% of base salary

The retirement benefit vesting schedule shall be 50% after 2 full years of employment at TECS, 75% after 3 full years, and 100% after 4 full years of employment. Partly vested or fully vested employees who leave their employment at the school in good standing, then are re-employed later retain their previously accrued vesting status.
Eligible employees may choose to have additional funds withheld from their paychecks to be deposited into their retirement accounts up to the maximum limits allowed by the IRS.

Life Insurance
Basic life insurance and/or accidental death or dismemberment insurance may also be included as a benefit to full-time, salaried employees.

2. Employee must meet all requirements of short and long term disability plans in order to qualify for compensation.
3. Employees must exhaust all personal/sick leave days remaining (including any carry-over days from prior years) prior to commencement of short term disability payment.
4. Regular pay will be suspended upon the completion of personal/sick leave days or the commencement of short term disability payments, whichever occurs first.
5. If the employee is unable to return to work at the maximum benefit of short term disability (12 weeks); long term disability will go into effect.

Leave –Full-Time Salaried Employees
Full-time, salaried teachers will accrue 10 days of general leave throughout the year. Administrators, office staff, and custodians will accrue one day of general leave per full-time month worked throughout the year. Portions of these accrued days may be used with prior written approval from the principal/director with 7 days notice preferred for vacation time. Vacation time will not be granted to employees immediately before or immediately after Winter and Spring Break, during parent/teacher conferences, or on teacher development days. Principals may grant exceptions in special circumstances. After three or more years of continuous employment, employees may cash in their personal days at the end of each year. The employee will receive $110 for each personal day cashed in. The employee can cash in all but five days or a lesser portion of their personal days remaining each year. If the employee leaves before their third year is complete, the unused personal days will have no value. All days in excess of 30 will automatically be cashed out to the employee. At the end of each year, employees eligible for cash-out will receive a statement of personal time with an application to cash out any unused time. The application is due back to the business manager by June 20th. All employees who do not return the application will have all personal time rolled over, up to the 30 day maximum, with all additional personal time cashed out to the employee. If an employee leaves mid-school year, the amount of days available for cash out will be prorated to the amount of months worked. Each month counts for one day, starting with August and concluding with May. If an employee works past the 10th of a given month after which he or she leaves the school, a personal day will be given for that month. If additional personal days are used beyond the employee's total accumulated personal days, $150 a day will be deducted from the employee's paycheck. Teachers and secretaries who have perfect attendance for a semester will be eligible for a $125.00 bonus. The bonus will be distributed in January and July paychecks.

Leave – Part-Time Salaried Employees

Part-time salaried employees will accrue 10 pro-rated days of general leave throughout the year, but it will not be accumulated from year-to-year.

Vacation / Holiday Pay

Salaried employees will receive their regular pay for holidays and school vacations. Non-salaried employees will not receive holiday and school vacation pay.

SALARY SUPPLEMENT FOR HIGHLY NEEDED EDUCATORS (SHiNE) POLICY

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
3108		September 3, 2025

This policy establishes the framework for administering the Salary Supplement for Highly Needed Educators (SHiNE) program for Thomas Edison Charter Schools as per Utah Code 53F-2-504.
At the beginning of each school year, Thomas Edison Charter School Administration will identify at least two and up to five high-needs assignment areas related to teacher shortages, high-demand subject areas, and challenges related to student performance in conjunction with the salary supplement application period.

An "Eligible Teacher" means a teacher who:

1. has a qualifying assignment;
2. qualifies for the teacher's assignment in accordance with TECS policy;
3. has not received a formal administrative directive for improvement (i.e. MOU); and
4. is a new employee or an employee who has not received an unsatisfactory rating (a 1 - Needs Refinement or a 2 - Approaching Expectations) for the teacher's three most recent administrator-rated evaluations.

A "Qualifying Assignment" means an assignment to a high-needs area as defined by this policy.

The amount of the salary supplement provided under this program shall be determined by Thomas Edison Charter School Administration at the beginning of each school year based on available state funding allocated to this program and in accordance with the guidelines established by USBE. The supplement amount will be a percentage of the state allocated funds based on the number of eligible teachers and determined annually. An eligible full-time or part-time teacher who is partially assigned to an approved high-needs assignment area shall receive a partial salary supplement award based on the total percentage of the approved assignment and the employee's FTE. The salary supplement award will be paid to eligible teachers once over the school year in the January payroll. If an eligible teacher terminates employment prior to the end of the school year or becomes ineligible due to assignment changes, licensure issues, or other reasons, the total award amount will be prorated based on the eligible days worked.

CHILD ABUSE-NEGLECT REPORTING POLICY (1 OF 2)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
3201		August 11, 2011	November 6, 2024

It is the policy of Thomas Edison Charter Schools to comply with all state laws regarding the reporting and investigation of child abuse and neglect. All actions with regard to child abuse and neglect reporting and investigations must be done in "good faith," defined as "acting honestly, objectively and without deliberate attempt to take unfair advantage over another person." Any person or institution participating good faith reporting and/or cooperating with investigations is immune from any liability, civil or criminal, that otherwise might result by reason of those actions (Utah Code 62A-4a-410). Immunity does not apply to actions that are in any way fraudulent, hostile, retaliatory, or otherwise willfully misconducted. TECS shall ensure that the anonymity of those reporting or investigating child abuse or neglect is preserved in a manner required by Utah Code 62A-4a-412.

Reporting

Any school employee who knows or reasonably believes that a child has been neglected, or physically or sexually abused, will immediately make an oral report to the school principal or his/her designee. Together, the principal or his/her designee and the employee will immediately notify the nearest peace officer, law enforcement agency or office of the State Division of Child and Family Services (DCFS). A report by an employee solely to a principal, supervisor, school nurse or psychologist does not satisfy the employee's personal duty to report to law enforcement or DCFS (Utah Admin. Code R277-401-3).

The school employee shall also complete a written school report to include the name of the student, the name(*s) of the person(s) who may have caused the abuse, any other information that might be helpful in establishing the cause of the abuse and the nature of the abuse, to be held in a separate confidential file. Reports will not be included in the student's personal file.

In addition to any duty to report suspected cases of child abuse or neglect under Utah Code 62A-4a-403, an educator who has reasonable cause to believe that a student may have been physically or sexually abused by a school employee shall immediately report the belief and all other relevant information to the school principal. A school administrator who has received a report, or who otherwise has reasonable cause to believe, that a student may have been physically or sexually abused by an educator shall immediately report that information to the professional practices division of the Utah State Office of Education. Failure to do so shall be considered unprofessional conduct. A person who makes a report under this section in good faith shall be immune from civil or criminal liability that might otherwise arise by reason of that report (Utah Code 62A-4a-410).

CHILD ABUSE-NEGLECT REPORTING POLICY (2 OF 2)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
3201		August 11, 2011	November 6, 2024

Investigations

Investigations are the responsibility of the DCFS. It is not the responsibility of school employees to prove that the child has been abused or neglected, or to determine whether the child is in need of protection. Investigation by education personnel prior to submitting a report should not go beyond that necessary to support a reason to believe that a reportable problem exists.

TECS will cooperate appropriately with law enforcement and DCFS investigators who come into the school, including:

(a) allowing authorized representatives to interview children consistent with DCFS and local law enforcement protocols;

(b) allowing appropriate access to student records;

(c) making no contact with parents/legal guardians of children being questioned by DCFS or local law enforcement; and

(i) cooperating with ongoing investigations and maintaining appropriate confidentiality (R227-401-3).

CHILD ABUSE-NEGLECT REPORTING PROCEDURES

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
3201a		May 7, 2014

Reporting:
When it is necessary to make a report to an outside agency, report only the information the child has volunteered and/or the cause for reasonable belief - school personnel have neither the responsibility nor the authority to conduct investigations. Information used in the report should be gathered under the philosophy of "minimal intrusion" to the child, that is, only to the extent necessary to determine whether a reportable circumstance exists. This would typically preclude practices such as interviewing the child, photographing or making video recordings of the child, soliciting statements from other people, etc.

Investigations:
When an investigator comes to the school, the following procedures should be followed:

1. Ensure the investigator is legitimate by asking to see identification and, if necessary, confirm the investigator's identity with the employing agency.
2. Formally turn the child over to the investigator. It then becomes the investigator's responsibility to take the necessary steps to protect the rights of the child, parents and any other individuals who may be involved.
3. Refrain from contacting parents, asking them to participate in the interview, or any other action unless directed by the investigator.
4. If requested by the child, the school employee may remain present at the interview solely as a support person to the child. Do not prompt the child or answer for the child.
5. If a parent calls about the interview, advise the parent that under the law the school may neither confirm nor deny that an interview has taken place, that all such investigations are the responsibility of DCFS and law enforcement, and those agencies should be contacted if there are any questions.

TEACHER DEVELOPMENT PLAN (1 OF 9)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
3204		August 6, 2014	September 4, 2024

Purpose of the Teacher Development Plan

The child is the center of everything we do. Students are more likely to succeed if provided quality instruction. Thus, the need to evaluate and support teachers in their continual development is crucial to the success of students. As teachers build on their strengths and work on areas that need refinement, their positive influence on students, parents, and other teachers will continually increase. Other purposes include:

- ❖ Providing an avenue to recognize teacher performance and accomplishment.
- ❖ Improving instruction through clarification of standards and constructive feedback.
- ❖ Providing a system of knowledgeable support for teachers.

The goal of the teacher development plan is to provide teachers with regular, meaningful, applicable feedback (formative evaluations) to be meaningfully applied in the classroom for direct improvement. Its purpose is to identify both strengths to maintain and areas to refine. If the process is meaningfully applied, individuals will develop into master teachers, thus benefiting students for years to come.

Overview of the Teacher Development Process

Teachers are visited by school leaders on a regular basis. There are three varieties of visits:

1. Informal Pop-In: This unannounced visit is generally short with little to no feedback provided. Its purpose is to stay in touch with the goings on of the class.
2. Scripted Observation: This unannounced or scheduled visit could last anywhere from ten minutes to an hour. The observer will script the lesson and provide written feedback. Generally the feedback will include a few suggestions for the teacher to consider. The number of observations relates to the teacher's years of experience in our program and other circumstances particular to the individual. These observations occur through February and may be continued through May as needed. In general, observations and evaluations will occur as follows:
    - ❖ First year teachers – once per week
    - ❖ Second year teachers – twice per month
    - ❖ Third year teachers – once per month
    - ❖ Fourth+ year teachers – twice per semester

3. Classroom Evaluation: These scheduled visits occur twice per year between September and February. The observer takes notes on the lesson according to the standards and indicators outlined in the "Classroom Evaluation Criteria" section. As this is a scheduled visit, the teacher plans a full lesson so as to allow for a full reflection on the evaluation. Then, soon after the lesson observation, the teacher and observer will meet for a post lesson conference and complete the evaluation together. Teachers will also set or review goals for improvement.

Each teacher will also complete one "Professional Review" per year. This evaluation is not connected with any lesson observation; instead, it will occur in a midyear meeting with school leaders. During this meeting, aside from completing the evaluation according to the standards and indicators outlined in the "Professional Review Criteria" section, the teacher and school leaders will discuss improvement goals. Both the "Classroom Evaluation" and "Professional Review" will be primarily completed by the teacher as a self-reflection with guidance provided by school leaders as needed.

For each evaluation standard, teachers will rate themselves on a three-pronged scale of Exceeds Expectations, Meets Expectations, or Needs Refinement.

All feedback will be given to the teacher in a timely manner. Teachers are encouraged to carefully review scripted observation feedback and evaluations and then develop a plan for personal application. Teachers are also encouraged to frequently seek out school leaders for help throughout the year; questions are both acceptable and encouraged.

In addition, students will be surveyed once per year to provide teachers with additional perspectives to assist in self-reflection and improvement.

Kindergarten through fifth grade teachers are also encouraged to have the Director of Instruction model a Spalding lesson as often as needed. Other teachers are also encouraged to request modeling as needed. Furthermore, as part of the professional development process, teachers are to schedule and observe a fellow teacher in action, on either campus, the amount of the following minimums:

First year teachers – once per grading period
Second and third year teachers – twice per semester
Fourth+ year teachers – twice a year

Near the end of the school year, generally occurring in May, each teacher will complete a Summative Evaluation for the year in a meeting with school leaders. Ratings and comments from both of the Classroom Evaluations and the midyear Professional Review will be available for reflection as the teacher and school leaders discuss successes from the year, improvement goals, and plans for the future.

Teachers are responsible to complete and turn in observation checklists that include observation

Core Instruction (R277-700)

Thomas Edison Schools administers curriculum to students that complies with the Utah State Core Standards, including instruction in English language arts, mathematics, science, social studies, art, health and physical education, educational technology, library media skills, and civics education.

Curriculum Materials Review Committee (R277-468-3 and R277-474-5)

The governing board will establish a Curriculum Materials Review Committee to investigate, propose, and resolve complaints related to school curriculum materials. This committee will review materials related to both general education and sex education instruction, so its membership and operations will comply with Board Rules R277-463-3 and R277-474-5. Members of the committee will be reviewed and appointed annually by the governing board.

Adoption of Primary Curriculum (53G-5-404(13); R277-468-3)

The school's primary curriculum consists of materials that are used to establish the main scope and sequence of learning within the school across grade levels in core subjects. New primary curriculum must be adopted according to the following process:

(1) Potential curriculum materials are reviewed by the Curriculum Materials Review Committee to determine whether the curriculum complies with state curriculum standards and is consistent with Thomas Edison philosophy.

(2) Proposed instructional materials are made available to the public for review either on the school website or at the school.

(3) The governing board holds at least two public meetings that include the opportunity for educators, parents, and other interested parties to express views and opinions on the recommended materials.

(4) The proposed curriculum is approved by the governing board in an open and public meeting.*

(5) The school makes the adopted materials accessible to parents.

*To change curriculum that is named in the school's philosophical policies, a three-fourths majority vote of a quorum of the parent organization is also required.

Selection and Use of Supplementary Instructional Materials

Supplementary instructional materials are comprised of resources chosen by educators to enhance or support the teaching of the schools' primary curriculum or the Utah State Core. Educators should use their professional judgment in choosing supplementary instructional materials consistent with Thomas Edison's philosophy and culture, including the principles of explicit instruction. It is recommended that the Directors of Instruction approve materials that are adopted by multiple teachers, that differ significantly from materials used by the school previously, or that are related to topics that might be considered controversial.

Teacher Neutrality and Student Participation (53G-10-200)

Teachers are expected to teach topics within the curriculum in a way that maintains the teacher's neutrality with regard to religious topics and current political viewpoints. Students' expressions of personal beliefs or viewpoints may not be prohibited or penalized unless they unreasonably interfere with classroom order, safety, or civility.

A student may refrain from participation in any aspect of the school that violates a religious belief or right of conscience for the student or their parents.

Complaints (R277-468-3)

Parents or students who have complaints with regard to the primary curriculum adopted by the school may make an appeal to administration to have the problematic portions reviewed by the Curriculum Materials Review Committee.

If parents or students have concerns about supplementary instructional materials chosen by teachers, it is recommended that they make a good-faith effort to resolve their concern with the teacher. If their concern is not resolved, they may appeal to the administration, who may call a meeting of the Curriculum Materials Review Committee, as appropriate, to resolve the complaint.

POSITION STATEMENT ON STATEWIDE TESTING (1 of 2)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
4107b

With the ever increasing demand for accountability placed upon the nation's public schools, we continue to witness the burdening pressure of high-stakes formal testing of students. These circumstances have changed the culture of public education in a variety of ways. Being a public school, Thomas Edison students participate in these assessments; yet, for years the school has taken a fundamental approach that often differs from this new national norm. It is our intent to more clearly inform our public on some basic key points to our philosophical approach.

Multiple Assessment Measures: Generally accepted laws of statistics purport that the greater the sample size of data, the more accurate that data becomes. TECS uses a variety of measurements to assess individual student progress and overall school improvement. The Utah State Office of Education (USOE) looks nearly singularly at state Criterion Referenced Test (CRT) scores. This assessment serves as a snapshot of a moment in time for a student and a school. Though useful and valid, when used alone CRT results fall short of creating an accurate and reliable picture of the reality of a student's and school's performance. TECS uses CRT results along with a variety of other measures, creating a clearer understanding of our progress and performance. Even though TECS generally tests well on the CRT, below are a few other data points of interest, all taken from nationally used and recognized assessments unaffiliated with the CRT.

- TECS students grow on average 2.6 grade levels in spelling, ending each year spelling 3 years above grade level.
- TECS students read on average nearly 2 years above grade level.
- TECS students complete our aggressive homework standards on average at a rate of 91%.
- Returning TECS students score higher on average on every standard assessment than new students.
- TECS has a 94% parental satisfaction rate.

Low-Stakes / Low-Pressure: We believe that testing should be a byproduct of the instructional program rather than the focus. The pressure produced by such emphasis on a single assessment has pushed public schools to adopt the now wide-spread practice of "teaching to the test." Schools take anywhere from weeks to months preparing for the CRT, borrowing valuable instructional time and purchasing specialized software to do so. Furthermore, the pressure to score well and the stress it incurs filters from the state, to the school, to the teacher, and ultimately to the student. The unfortunate yet true effect is that test scores have replaced student learning as the top priority, making the child the decisive victim.

TECS's philosophy and practice over our decade-long existence has been to never teach to the test. Our teachers teach the curriculum, holding all to high standards, and then let the tests take care of themselves. Low stakes. Low pressure. This common sense yet unique approach provides a more realistic rather than inflated measure of student performance.

Maximizing Instructional Time: TECS maximizes each minute of instructional time entrusted to us. As many sacrifice time for test preparation, we don't. When pressed to consider changing our practices to appear more successful through inflated CRT scores, we press back by asking the question… at what expense? Language Arts? Math? Science? Music? We prefer the inverse approach; we spend time on the instruction of students at the potential expense of inflated test scores. The effective teaching of every subject on every day trumps any other potential distraction.

Thomas Edison Charter Schools take seriously the progress of each individual student. We are confident in the success of our philosophies, curriculum, and educational program, and the data from a variety of measures confirms it. We continue to invite current parents and other members of the community to spend some time in our schools and observe the consistent quality found in the details of our daily operations—guaranteed in each class each day. Prioritizing students above all else, TECS will continue to serve the nearly 800 Cache Valley families who have learned for themselves the immense benefits gained from this exceptional program.

LIBRARY POLICIES AND PROCEDURES (3 OF 8)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
4204		August 2010	February 5, 2025

PROCEDURES

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT

Materials Selection Policy: The School Library of Thomas Edison Charter School collaborates with classroom teachers in using materials that are an integral part of the curriculum. The materials are selected from several forms of media available for interest, vocabulary, maturity and ability levels for students within the school. The school library attempts to attract students by providing material for reading, reviewing, and listening as sources for research, pleasure, and recreation, thereby encouraging life-long library users and fostering a pleasurable exposure to libraries .

Collection Development Evaluation: Before selecting materials for the school year, the school librarian will conduct an analysis of the collection to identify areas of strength and weaknesses in the collection. This analysis will help the school librarian focus on areas of need. An analysis may also involve surveying the teachers and students as to items they would like to see added in the collection. After the analysis, a priority for collection development will be created focusing on the areas of need in curriculum topics, changes to the curriculum, lost materials, or student and faculty requests.

Materials will be selected to:

1. Enrich and support the curriculum, taking into account interests and reading level.
2. Foster the development of the student – intellectually, emotionally, culturally and spiritually.
3. Present all points of view to enable the students to develop the ability to read and think critically and make intelligent judgments.
4. Represent all ethnic, religious and cultural backgrounds.
5. Assure a comprehensive and appropriate collection of the highest quality for students placing principle and reason above personal opinion.

Selection Tools: Responsibility for the selection shall be delegated to the school librarian with assistance from the school library review committee as needed based on the following criteria:

1. TECS Curriculum
2. Literary Quality
3. Community Standards

The school librarian may also consider using reviews of books to aid in determining the appropriateness of a book to be added the collection or not. Reputable, unbiased, professionally prepared selection aids, and other professional journals may be used in the selection process as well as teacher, parent, and student input.

4204		August 2010	February 5, 2025

Gifts: Gifts may be accepted from outside sources, but will be evaluated as to their acceptance with care, and in accordance with the above guidelines, by the school librarian. Acceptance of gifts does not necessitate that the materials will be retained and/or incorporated by/into the school library. This applies to money or materials given to the school library by individuals, Parent Organizations, other interest groups, or memorials. If monetary donations are given, the school librarian will be spent to benefit the school collection or program. If any gift is not selected for inclusion in the resource collection, the gift material will be passed on to a more appropriate recipient.

Parental Restriction of Individual Student Access

TECS recognizes the right of parents to restrict their children's access to materials they deem inappropriate. However, no parent has the right to make that decision on behalf of other students.

Controversial Materials: Any parent/guardian, employee, or student of the school may express their concerns about items in circulation. Review of questioned materials should be treated objectively, unemotionally and as a routine matter. Criticisms of library books should first be brought to the school librarian for review. The librarian then brings the book to the Library Review Committee for further evaluation. This committee is created each year from volunteers from the community (i.e. parents, teachers, etc.). Randomly chosen members of the committee will do a blind read and determine the majority consensus on a book's placement. If further consideration is needed, the concerned party should fill out the Request for Re-Evaluation of Library Materials that will then be brought to the attention of a re-evaluation committee who will then determine the validity of the objection.

Procedure for Handling Re-Evaluation Requests:

1. If the concerned party still has an objection to the decision made by the Library Review Committee, they have the option to fill out a Request for Re-Evaluation of Library Materials form which can be obtained from the librarian.
2. The material in question shall be reviewed by a committee comprised of the following individuals:
    - (1) School Director -Principal
    - (1) Director of Instruction
    - (1) Librarian
    - (1) Member of Governing Board
    - (1) Member of Parent Organization
3. The re-evaluation committee shall function at the call of the School Principal and school librarian upon receipt of a completed form. The material shall be considered in its entirety, with the specific objection in mind. CATALOGING OF BOOKS

The librarian will direct the cataloging of books.

MAINTENANCE (WEEDING, INVENTORY, REPAIR)

Books Needing Repair: Books, which are not extensive in their damage, will require special repairing. Patrons are not encouraged to mend the book themselves.

Weeding: Weeding is the process by which school library materials that are no longer needed or useful, are removed. Decisions on weeding are the responsibility of the school librarian and will be based on the quality of the information and room on the shelves for storage. Materials will be weeded if they are in poor physical condition, outdated, or no longer true or suitable for users. Duplicates of books whose popularity has decreased may be discarded. Materials rarely used may be withdrawn after considering their value for research.

Inventory: At the end of the school year, the library will close the week before school is out so the school librarian can conduct an inventory of all items in the library. The library will use the automated inventory tool in the library's catalog system to do this. Each item in the library should be scanned in to get a reliable account of all materials in the collection. The school librarian will make every effort to locate unaccounted books still checked out by patrons. After school is out, the school librarian will mail out notices to parents that their child has an item out with the cost of the book if the book cannot be returned.

ACCESS / SCHEDULING

Library Hours: The library opens daily before school and will remain open for a period of time after the last class is dismissed. Students may use the library before school, during lunch hour, and after school. If there is not a scheduled class, the librarian and administration will determine if students may use the library during recess.

Class Schedules: Library class times are scheduled weekly for each class in grades K-5. Any open times or missed library times may be rescheduled with the school librarian directly if there is time available. The library is scheduled for one class only; if other classes would like to meet concurrently, arrangements must be made with the school librarian ahead of time.

Individuals wishing to use the library during non-scheduled times need to have permission from the classroom teacher and proper arrangements need to be made ahead of time with the school librarian.

The following is the weekly schedule:

- Kindergarten through Fifth Grade--30 minutes (including check-out time).
- Middle School (grades 6-8) will attend as scheduled by teacher.

CIRCULATION

Patron Barcode Labels: Student Barcode labels will be created based on official student IDs.

Proper Check-Out: All materials and resources must be properly checked out through the circulation desk. If the circulation computer is not functioning, a written copy of materials (including patron name and barcode numbers) must be left at the circulation desk before removing items from the school library.

School Library Card: Students will have a library card that will be used during library class. Students in grades K-5 will keep these cards in the library until the end of the school year. Middle school students will be given their cards at the beginning of the school year. It is not necessary for the middle school students to have these cards with them to check out a book.

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
4204		August 2010	February 5, 2025

Loan Period: Students K-8 will have a loan period of 2 weeks. Books may be renewed if additional reading time is needed (providing the item is not on hold for another patron). However, students must show books for renewal or prove that it is not lost or damaged at the time of renewal.

Allowed Number of Materials for Check-out:

- Kindergarten and First Grade- students are limited to 1 book at a time.
- Second Grade—students are limited to 2 books at a time.
- Third Grade—students are limited to 3 books at a time.
- Fourth Grade—students are limited to 4 books at a time.
- Fifth Grade through Eighth Grade—students are limited to 5 books at a time.
- Faculty/Staff—50 unless arrangements are made with the librarian.
- Parents - the limit to be determined by the individual school librarian.

Holds: Students will be allowed to place one or more book(s) on hold at a time. The number will be set by the librarian.

Reference Materials: All reference materials must remain in the library for usage during the school day; however, the reference materials may be checked-out "overnight" in order to complete assignments. Also, teachers may check out reference materials to be used in the classroom setting for period of time needed.

Over dues and Fines: There will be no overdue fines. Students with overdue books may receive over-due notices. These notices are printed regularly and will be delivered to each student. Individual librarians will determine if a student can check out new books if they have an overdue book on their account.

Books which are lost, stolen, mutilated, or damaged in any way will require replacement by the responsible individual. Replacement prices are based upon prices listed on the MARC records for full replacement value. The school librarian can determine the amount to be charged and whether arrangements can be made for the student to continue to check out books while fines are being worked out or if they are trying to locate the book.

The Thomas Edison Charter Schools purchasing procedures defines how bills are paid and reflected in the Schools' operating budgets. There are three main categories (defined below): Pre-approved in budget, Board approved and, Principal approved.

Purchases by any Thomas Edison employee require an approved requisition unless they fall into the Pre-Approved in the Budget category. The Business Manager will pay reimbursements when approved expense reimbursement forms are submitted. All financial activity is to be stored in a relational database. The board will review budget and financial reports monthly. The final budget for the current fiscal year, and the preliminary budget for the next fiscal year, will be reviewed during the final quarter of the current fiscal year. Final approval of both will typically occur at the June board meeting.

An independent auditor will review records and procedures at least annually for accuracy and report to the board.

All direct corporate and personal donations should be acknowledged by way of a letter signed by the Principal. The funds will be given to the Business Manager for deposit and to be entered into the database for tracking. The governing board will specify the budget category to which donations should be allocated unless specified by the donor.

Pre-Approved in Budget: These budget categories are pre-approved by the Thomas Edison board and should be paid by the Business Manager. All transactions will be entered into the TECS financial database.

- Payroll
- Benefits
- Facility and Property Maintenance
- Utilities
- Insurance

Board Approved: The following budget categories require board approval.

- Cash Surplus/Contingency
- Board Expenses

Principal Approved: The Principal has authority to purchase items in the remaining budget categories. In addition, the Principal has authorization to approve employee and volunteer reimbursement expense requisitions. Purchases or expenses requiring use of the contingency fund must be approved by the board. CASH DISBURSEMENT AND PURCHASING POLICY (1 OF 3)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
5103		September 4, 2013	October 1, 2025

Cash Disbursement and Purchasing Policy

All funds owned or administered by Thomas Edison Charter Schools are public funds subject to federal and state law. Funds will be managed prudently and expenditures must be reasonable and necessary for delivery of the educational program.

All individuals that initiate, authorize or process cash disbursements on behalf of TECS, hereafter known as "TECS representatives", will act in accordance with Utah Educator's Standards, state ethics acts, and all applicable state and federal laws. Expenditures, purchases, contracts, construction and improvements must comply with the State Procurement Code and the Utah Public Officers' and Employees' Ethics Act.

All checks or check stock, credit / purchase cards, access to bank accounts and statements, and disbursing of school funds are secured and controlled by the Business Manager. Expenditure transactions must be approved by one of the following: authorized employees, Principal(s), or Governing Board. Accurate records shall be kept of all transactions. All records are subject to periodic audits by the Business Manager, Principal(s), and Governing Board. Disbursements should be substantiated by supporting documents such as purchase orders, receipts, invoices, quotes, reimbursement forms, etc. The Business Manager shall provide the principals of each campus a record of all monthly electronic payments, excluding payroll. This record shall be reviewed and signed each month by the principal of each school. The Business Manager shall also provide the principals of each campus a record of the prior month's payroll. On a monthly basis, a minimum of five randomly selected individual amounts shall be reviewed for accuracy in each payroll report. The total amount for every payroll shall also be examined for accuracy and the report shall be signed by the principal or assistant principal of each campus. Financial statements will be reviewed quarterly by the Business Manager, financial consultant, and Board representative.

Small Purchase Guidelines

- The "individual procurement threshold", the maximum expendable amount to obtain a single item/service from one vendor at one time without requiring competitive purchasing, is $1,000. Purchases in excess of $1,000 require a minimum of two competitive quotes. Quotes should provide detailed information such as date, item descriptions and price, additional charges such as shipping, and contact information.
- The "single procurement aggregate threshold", the maximum expendable amount to obtain multiple procurement items/services from one vendor at one time, is $5,000. This includes any combination of individual procurement items costing less than $1,001 purchased from one vendor at one time, not to exceed in total $5,000.

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
5103		September 4, 2013	September 4, 2024

- The "annual cumulative threshold", the maximum total annual expendable amount to obtain procurement item(s) from the same vendor during the fiscal year (July 1—June 30), is $50,000. Single purchases or combinations of single purchases in excess of $50,000 require a bidding or a proposal (RFP) process.
- Professional services, such as architectural, engineering, accounting, legal, or consulting services less than $100,001 require a competitive bidding or RFP process, or by selecting a provider from an approved potential vendor list created using an invitation for bids or an RFP under provisions in Utah Code 63G-6a-403 and 404. Goods or services on term statewide contracts may not be purchased from suppliers other than the state term contract supplier(s).
- Small construction projects:
  (1) Costing less than $25,001 may be procured by direct award without seeking competitive bids or quotes after documenting that all applicable building code approvals, licensing requirements, permitting and other construction related requirements are met.
  (2) Costing between $25,001 and $80,000 may be procured by obtaining a minimum of two (2) competitive bids or quotes that include minimum specifications and be awarded to the contractor with the lowest bid or quote that meets the specification after documenting that the requirements are met from (1).
  (3) Costing more than $80,000 are not considered small construction projects and must follow the requirements outlined in Utah Code 53A-20.

Reoccurring Purchase Over Annual Cumulative Threshold
Ongoing, continuous, and regularly scheduled purchases that exceed $50,000 shall utilize a contract if feasible.

Artificially Dividing a Purchase
Procurement purchases may not be intentionally divided into one or more smaller purchases over a period of time to avoid requiring competitive quotes or bids.

Hospitality Gifts, Gratuities, Kickbacks, and Use of Position or Influence TECS representatives and/or their family members shall not accept hospitality or promotional gifts with a value in excess of $10 on any given occasion and shall not exceed $50 total from one school vendor in one year. Any gift exceeding these thresholds is considered a gratuity. A "gratuity" is defined as anything of value to which a monetary price or fee is usually affixed. TECS representatives and/or their family members will not accept gratuities from any individual or entity involved in the purchasing and/or procurement process. TECS representatives and/or their family members will not ask, receive, accept or promise any manner of "kickback", a gratuity given in exchange for favorable treatment in a pending procurement or the administration of a contract, either for themselves or for another person. TECS representatives and/or their family members will not use position or influence to obtain a personal benefit for themselves and/or the family members of any individual or entity involved in the purchasing and/or procurement process.

Legal penalties are attached to violations of state purchasing, procurement and cash disbursement laws. TECS fiscal policies should be reviewed annually to ensure compliance with legal amendments.

SCHOOL FEES POLICY (1 OF 2)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
5105		January 8, 2014	September 4, 2024

School Fees Policy

It is the intention of Thomas Edison Charter Schools to provide free, quality education that is equally accessible to all TECS students. Accordingly, it is the policy of Thomas Edison Charter Schools to comply with state laws that regulate the charging of school fees.

State Provisions:

Utah law defines a "fee" a charge, expense, deposit, rental, or payment in the form of money, goods, or services that is a condition to a student's full participation in an activity, course, or program that is provided, sponsored, or supported by an LEA. In grades K-6, unless sixth grade is included in a school that contains one or more secondary grade (7-12), state law prohibits the charging of fees for any class or activity incorporated into the regular school day. This includes materials, textbooks, supplies, assemblies and field trips. Utah law allows students in secondary grades to be charged fees in some circumstances, as described in 53G-7-5. LEAs that charge fees are subject to state legal provisions requiring fee schedules and fee waivers.

TECS Policy:

It is the current policy of TECS to charge no school fees. All TECS students may enroll, fully participate, and have the opportunity to acquire all skills and knowledge required for full credit and highest grades in TECS classes without being charged fees. If at any time the TECS governing board, in collaboration with administration and financial consultants, determines a reasonable need to charge school fees, state law mandates that the governing board must develop, approve, publish and distribute to parents a detailed fee schedule and fee waiver policy, prior to charging or collecting any fees.

Costs for optional items available for purchase, such as yearbooks, school pictures, school lunches, etc., are not considered fees as they are not required for participation and do not affect a student's ability to participate fully in activities in the regular school day. Repair or replacement costs for lost or damaged school-provided supplies are not considered fees, thus TECS may require students to repair or replace supplies lost or damaged as a result of irresponsible or destructive behavior.

TECS may provide a list of suggested school supplies to parents, who may voluntarily furnish supplies for student use. State law requires that a school supplies list "includes and is preceded by the following notice: "NOTICE: THE ITEMS ON THIS LIST WILL BE USED DURING THE REGULAR SCHOOL DAY. THEY MAY BE BROUGHT FROM HOME ON A VOLUNTARY BASIS, OTHERWISE, THEY WILL BE FURNISHED BY THE SCHOOL."

Additionally, TECS may apprise parents of the opportunity to voluntarily donate money or goods for field trips, class activities, Parent Organization activities, etc. The voluntary nature of donations should be clearly communicated. No TECS student will be excluded from any such activity based upon their inability to donate, and names of non-donors will not be released.

As required by the Utah State Office of Education, TECS will review and approve this policy annually and submit the Charter School Certification of Compliance form, with the current school fees policy

COMPETITION PARTICIPATION AND TRAVEL POLICY (1 OF 2)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
5106		December 4, 2013	April 6, 2016

Participation in competitions (such as history & science fairs, spelling & geography bees, etc.) is part of the classroom curriculum at the school level; competition at advanced levels (such as region, state and nationals) is optional for students who qualify. In support of students' achievements, TECS offers financial support and, when possible, teacher mentorship to students participating in approved competitions. Competition participation, fundraising plans, funding allocations, travel plans, accommodation plans, and reimbursement requests are at the discretion of the principal(s) and must be approved prior to the competition.

Payments / Reimbursements

TECS will pay student registration fees. TECS will reimburse for the cost of student travel (airfare or fuel* for approved competitions within driving distance), project shipping, and the student's portion of hotel accommodations during the days of the competition. For teachers mentoring students at competitions, TECS will pay registration fees and will reimburse for airfare, or auto fuel* for competitions within driving distance, and hotel accommodations during the competition. All reimbursement requests must be submitted with appropriate documentation (original receipts, etc.).
*Fuel reimbursement, not mileage reimbursement

Teacher Mentors

Teachers mentoring students at competitions are covered under their usual Workman's Compensation insurance. All professional educator standards outlined in Utah state rule apply during travel and competition participation.

Chaperones

Each student who decides to attend competitions must attend with a family-appointed, family-sponsored chaperone. The chaperone assumes all responsibility for the student for the duration of the trip (travel, food, medical, academic, etc.). Students and their chaperones travel and compete at their own risk and the school assumes no responsibility for their safety or expenses. Appropriate waiver of liability forms will be completed prior to the trip. Chaperones travel and accommodation expenses are not reimbursed, unless pre-approved by principal as a result of fundraising efforts (see below).

Accommodations

Teacher mentors traveling with students will have separate accommodations. It is expected that non-related students will have separate accommodations for boys and girls.

However, the school's responsibility will not exceed that pre-determined reimbursement amount.

LAND TRUST POLICY (1 OF 2)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
5202		December 4, 2013	September 4, 2024

It is the policy of Thomas Edison Charter Schools to comply with all laws governing the state LAND Trust Program. Utah law requires charter schools to form councils to prepare plans for the use of allotted LAND Trust funds. Accordingly, each TECS campus will establish a LAND Trust Council tasked with the responsibility of formulating individual school LAND Trust plans.

TECS LAND Trust Councils will be comprised of administration, staff, and parents or guardians of enrolled students (hereafter referred to as "parents") at their respective campuses. Parent representatives on the councils will be elected annually by the membership of the Parent Organizations. Candidates will be designated from the Parent Organizations and may volunteer or be nominated to run for elected parent positions. In accordance with state law, the number of council members who are parents will exceed the number of all other council members combined by at least two. COMPUTER SOFTWARE POLICY

6105		Before September 14, 2005	January 6, 2022

Educational computer software programs offer great learning benefits to students. But to use software responsibly and legally, staff must follow these rules:

1. Do not use any curricular computer software, other than officially approved Thomas Edison Charter School materials, without permission. All school curriculum must be approved prior to use. The school principal can approve most materials for individual classroom use.
2. Register computer software. Staff members must register all software, including software downloaded from the Internet, they use in class or on school computers with the IT Security Officer (ISO). Staff members must provide the title, the manufacturer, and the license number of the software.
3. Do not copy computer software without permission. In general, staff members may not make copies of computer software without the permission of the copyright holder. Purchased computer software may not be used as a "master" to make copies. Computer software may be legally copied only if making a copy is an essential step in using the software or the new copy is a backup. Backups may not be used if the original is available. When purchasing software, it is important to read the license agreement. A single-user license means that the software may be installed only on one computer. A person buying software may not install the software on both home and school computers.
4. Do not download software without permission. Staff members may not download any software or programs off the Internet without permission from the IT Security Officer (ISO) or the administration. Free distributions of software on the Internet may not be authorized by the manufacturer, and the software may contain computer viruses that can spread through the school network.
5. Beware of penalties and enforcement. Staff members and the school could face fines and criminal penalties for violating federal copyright law.

VISION SCREENING POLICY (1 OF 2)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
7104		November 17, 2022

VISION SCREENING

Thomas Edison Charter Schools shall perform distance visual acuity screenings every year for students in grades kindergarten, first, third, fifth and seventh per Utah State Statute (UCS 53G-9-404). Additional students may also be screened at the discretion of the school. The ultimate goal of screening is to identify students with vision problems and assist families in getting further evaluations done.

All parents shall be notified of scheduled vision screenings by the school via parent handbooks, school newsletters, computer generated messages, and other means of communication. Opt-out instructions will be included in the screening notification.

The schools will assign a staff member to be the Designated Vision Point-Person (DVPP). This staff member will undergo Utah Department of Health training (A) on how to plan and implement a school-wide tier 1 vision screening. The DVPP is responsible for ensuring all volunteers assisting with vision screenings complete the UDOH training (B). The DVPP is also responsible for referral and follow-up for students who do not pass the vision screening, as well as documentation of results for all students. Finally, the DVPP should be the person who completes the required annual vision screening report due to UDOH by June 30th each year. School volunteers who assist with vision screenings may not profit financially from volunteering, and may not market, advertise or promote a business in connection with assisting in a vision screening.

The schools may choose to use an outside entity to perform tier 1 vision screenings services. The outside entity must be approved by the Utah Department of Health and must provide the school with results of all vision screenings for documentation in student's records.
Parents or guardians shall be notified in writing of abnormal screening results within 30 days of vision screening or rescreening. The student's classroom teacher shall be notified if a student fails the vision screening.

Referrals for a professional eye exam may be made to parents and guardians if a student fails a tier 1 vision screening, screening is inconclusive, teacher has a legitimate concern based on observing behaviors that suggest a vision problem, and when a student is unable to perform a vision screening and is currently not under the care of an eye care specialist. Some students may bypass screening and be automatically referred to an eye care professional when student have:

- Readily recognized eye abnormalities, such as strabismus or ptosis
- A known diagnosis of a neurodevelopmental disorder (e.g. hearing impairment, motor abnormalities such as cerebral palsy, cognitive impairment, autism spectrum disorders, or speech delay)
- Systemic diseases known to have associated eye disorders (e.g. diabetes and juvenile rheumatoid arthritis)
- A history of premature birth and low birthweight (32 weeks gestation and 1,500 grams birthweight) who has not already had a normal comprehensive eye examination
- Parents or caregivers who believe their child has a vision-related problem or have concerns regarding their child reaching age-appropriate developmental or academic milestones

VISION SCREENING POLICY (2 OF 2)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
7104		November 17, 2022

- A known family history of a first-degree relative with strabismus, amblyopia, or high refractive error

Note: The Utah Special Education rule requires students being evaluated for eligibility for special education, and every three years for their reevaluation, must have vision issues ruled out. Students being referred to Special Education do not need a new vision screening. Distance vision (Tier 1) screening done within the current school year is adequate for this requirement. A symptoms questionnaire should be completed by the teacher to determine whether a Tier 2 vision screening should be done, or if the student should be automatically referred to an eye care professional for a complete eye examination.

The schools shall follow-up with parents/guardians after a referral letter is sent. The results from all vision screenings shall be documented in the student's permanent record and shall include whether a student was referred to an eye care professional and any follow-up. Documentation can be electronic or paper. In addition to recording vision results in each student's individual record, Utah State Statute requires schools to report aggregate vision screening data annually to the UDOH. The school shall report this data via the Utah Department of Health Vision Report form. Aggregate data to be submitted includes the number of distance screenings performed (tier 1), number of students referred to an eye care professional, and other data points as determined by the UDOH.

If a student is referred for a special education evaluation (or reevaluation) of a specific learning disability, does not achieve benchmark on the benchmark reading assessment, or there is another concern regarding his/her vision a Symptoms Questionnaire should be completed by the teacher and given to the school nurse (or other approved tier 2 vision screener) within 45 days of the benchmark assessment. The school nurse then has 30 days to evaluate the Symptoms Questionnaire to determine the next steps. The school nurse or other approved tier 2 vision screener may automatically refer the student to an eye care professional for a comprehensive eye examination. If the school does not have a school nurse or other approved tier 2 vision screener, the DVPP should evaluate any Symptoms Questionnaires submitted and refer the student based on criteria listed there.

Some groups of students may not be able to complete a vision screening using the recommended charts due to age, immaturity, or physical/cognitive challenges. These students will need to use alternative vision screening methods.

The schools shall keep any results of vision screening confidential and only shared with the school nurse or DVPP. The school nurse or DVPP will document results and refer any student who does not pass the vision screening to an eye care professional for a more thorough vision examination. The volunteer shall never share results of a vision screening with anyone other than the DVPP or school nurse. . If the volunteer shares private confidential information they are in violation of federal privacy laws (FERPA).

Permission and Documentation (§53G-9-502)
A parent or guardian requesting that TECS employees administer medication, including over-the-counter medication, to their student will need to provide the following documentation:

- a current written and signed request that the medication be administered to the student during regular school hours; and
- documentation from the student's licensed healthcare provider that:
  - lists the prescribed medication;
  - provides a statement that administration of medication during school is medically necessary;
  - provides documentation as to the method, amount, and time schedule or conditions for administration.

All documentation must be updated at least annually. Authorization for administration of medication by school personnel may be withdrawn by the school at any time following actual notice to the student's parent.

Designated employees may administer the following medications to students for first-aid purposes unless their parents sign a Medical First Aid Opt-Out Form:

- Medicated cough drops
- Benadryl cream for itching related to rashes or hives
- Neosporin/antibiotic ointment for cuts or abrasions
- Sting Relief Pads
- Hydrocortisone cream for itching related to hives or rash
- Burn spray for relief of minor burns
- Eye drops or eye irrigating solution

Identification, Safekeeping, and Records of Administration for Medications (§53G-9-502, R392-200)
Prescription medication must come to school in the original container labeled for the student by a pharmacist in accordance with the law and must be administered in a manner consistent with the instructions on the label.

Any medication administered to a student by school personnel, and any record maintained of its administration, shall be securely stored in a location that is accessible only by those authorized to administer the medication. If medication must be transported away from the school, such as during a school evacuation or on a field trip, a responsible adult should store it securely during transportation.

The parent or guardian will be responsible for checking expiration dates and updating prescriptions. Administration of medication will be documented by the designated employee administering the medication, noting the time and date. Any medication administration errors should also be reported. At the completion of the medication administration, or the end of the year, all unused medication is to be picked up by the parent or guardian. Any medication left longer than 30 days will be discarded. The discarding will be witnessed and documented by two employees.

Medication Self-Administration

The following medications may be carried and self-administered by students when the appropriate procedures are followed:

- Epinephrine auto-injector
- Asthma medication
- Diabetes medication

A parent or guardian requesting that a student be allowed to carry and self-administer one of the above medications will need to provide the following annually, using current state-mandated forms: Documentation in which the parent authorizes and acknowledges that the student should, and is responsible and capable of, carrying and self administering the given medication; and Documentation from the student's licensed healthcare provider that:

- lists the prescribed the medication;
- acknowledges that it is medically appropriate for the student to carry and self-administer the medication; and
- confirms that the student needs to be in possession of the medication at all times.

Students will be permitted to possess and self-apply sunscreen without authorization, but the parent must provide written consent before a volunteer employee can assist the student in applying sunscreen.

Students in grades 6-8 may carry a one-day supply of over-the-counter medication for personal use only.

Employee Designation and Training for Emergency Medication Administration (§26B-4-406)

Administrative and office personnel shall be designated as employees who may administer routine or over-the-counter medication. Employees who have volunteered and completed the applicable trainings listed below will be considered "qualified adults" who may administer life-saving medication in the event of an emergency.

Qualified adults shall receive training provided by the Utah Department of Health and Human Services or a healthcare professional that complies with the following statutes in order to administer the associated medication:

- Epinephrine auto-injector: §26B-4-407(1-3)
- Albuterol: §26B-4-408(1-3)
- Glucagon: §53G-9-504(2-3)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date

- Seizure rescue medication: §53G-9-505(1-3)
- Opiate antagonist: §26B-4-509(3)
- Adrenal insufficiency medication: §53G-9-507

Trainings will be offered, including annual refresher trainings, as required by each referenced law.

Every three years, TECS will provide training to their employees regarding signs and symptoms of seizures and appropriate steps for seizure first aid.

Taking a training indicated in this section does not require an employee to provide first aid or medication to students in the event of an emergency.

Emergency Action Plans and Emergency Medication Administration (§26B-4-406)
When a student has known risks which may require emergency medication administration, an individual Emergency Action Plan must be completed by the parent/guardian using state-mandated forms, which includes symptoms that would require administering life-saving medication, gives specific instructions for managing an emergency, and authorizes the school to administer life-saving medications in emergency situations.

A qualified adult may administer the following life-saving medications when: an individual is showing symptoms indicative of an medical emergency, there is no healthcare professional immediately available, and the qualified adult has been appropriately trained on administering the relevant medication as required by law:

- epinephrine auto-injector;
- Albuterol, when a current Emergency Action Plan is on file;
- glucagon, when a current Emergency Action Plan is on file; and
- seizure rescue medication, when a Seizure Rescue Authorization is on file at the school which meets the requirements in §53G-9-505(1b)
- an opiate antagonist
- adrenal insufficiency medication

After administering life-saving medication, the employee shall initiate appropriate medical follow-up in accordance with their training materials.

Stock Medications
TECS shall make an emergency epinephrine auto-injector available at the school that can be accessed by a qualified adult in the event of an emergency. The school may also store emergency stock albuterol and an opiate antagonist at its discretion. The storage of emergency rescue medication at the school does not absolve parents/guardians from the responsibility of providing necessary rescue medication for their child.

Thomas Edison Charter Schools will implement reasonable precautionary measures to protect students participating in physical education classes and/or school athletic activities who show signs or symptoms of a concussion or traumatic head injury.

Training:
Physical education teachers shall complete annual training on the nature and risk of concussions and head injuries.

Recognition:
A student will be suspected of suffering a concussion if he or she exhibits any of the following symptoms following a head injury (arising from blunt trauma, acceleration of force, or deceleration of force):

- Transient confusion, disorientation, or impaired consciousness;
- Dysfunction of memory;
- Loss of consciousness; or
- Signs of other neurological or neuropsychological dysfunction including seizures, irritability, lethargy, vomiting, headache, dizziness, or fatigue.

Removal:
If a student is reasonably suspected of sustaining a concussion or traumatic head injury, school personnel will remove the student from the physical education class or athletic event. In compliance with Utah Health Code §26B-4-403 & 404, further participation will be prohibited by school personnel until the student is evaluated by a qualified health care provider and has submitted a written statement from that provider clearing the student to resume participation in the class or event. The "qualified health care provider" may be a certified physician or may be another healthcare professional who has successfully and certifiably completed a continuing education course in the evaluation and management of concussions within the last three years. Additionally, Utah law states that a school nurse may assess a student who is suspected of sustaining a concussion or traumatic head injury during school hours on school property regardless of whether the nurse have received specialized training in the evaluation and management of a concussion. However, if the school nurse has not received specialized training, the nurse shall refer the child to a qualified health care provider and may not provide a written statement of clearance to resume participation.

Thomas Edison Charter Schools will implement reasonable precautionary measures to protect students participating in physical education classes and/or school athletic activities who show signs or symptoms of a concussion or traumatic head injury.

Recovery:
Recovery from a traumatic head injury may impact a student's cognitive functioning and/or may necessitate accommodating measures on the part of TECS. Students recovering from a concussion or traumatic head injury will be reasonably accommodated during the healing process. Such accommodations may include, but

Reporting, Referral and Parental Notification:
If a school employee believes a student is at-risk of attempting suicide, physical self-harm, or harming others, the school employee will make an oral report to the school principal or his/her designee(s), such as the school counselor and/or school psychologist as soon as reasonably possible, followed by written documentation. The school counselor and/or his/her designee(s) may intervene and ask a student questions regarding the student's suicidal thoughts, physically self-harming behavior, or thoughts of harming others for the purposes of referring the student to appropriate prevention services and informing the student's parent or legal guardian. Queries should be conducted under the philosophy of "minimal intrusion" to the student, that is, only to the extent necessary to gather enough information to accomplish appropriate referral and parental notification. Parents shall be provided with suicide prevention materials and information on ways to limit their student's access to fatal means.

Prevention Program:
As required by law, Thomas Edison Charter Schools will implement a youth suicide prevention program in grades 6-9. This program will be designed and implemented by TECS guidance counselors and/or psychologist in collaboration with the USOE suicide prevention coordinator and TECS administration to ensure alignment with TECS philosophy. The program shall include prevention, intervention and postvention components.

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
7108		June 5, 2024

Thomas Edison Charter Schools (TECS) are committed to maintaining a safe and secure school environment for students and staff members. In accordance with Utah Law, TECS will designate a safety and security specialist and a safety and security director who will meet the requirements in Utah Code 53G -8-701. The schools will also contract with a local law enforcement agency to employ a school resource officer (SRO).

School Resource Officer Requirements

The principal will collaborate with Cache County in choosing a safety resource officer for the school, and the principal will interview candidates before one is assigned to the school. The principal will maintain open communication with the local law enforcement agency about the SRO's performance and may initiate a change in placement if the SRO is not a good fit for the culture and climate of the school. The SRO will work to create a cooperative, proactive, and problem-solving partnership between law enforcement and Thomas Edison Charter Schools.

A school resource officer assigned to TECS will uphold the Thomas Edison culture and philosophy to maintain a safe, healthy, and productive learning environment; support educational opportunities for all students; and act as a positive role model for students. In addition to completing all state-mandated training requirements, the SRO will receive training in the use of positive discipline according to the Glenn Latham model. The SRO is expected to read and follow the school's policies and procedures manual; particularly the sections regarding safety (7000) and student expectations and discipline (2200). An SRO is designated as a school official for the purposes of FERPA, and is expected to maintain student confidentiality in accordance with federal law.

The levels of discipline will be used in all cases to address inappropriate student behavior. The SRO should not be involved in disciplining students except under the direction of administration, or in cases where an individual is in possession of a weapon, or in violation of state law as described in Utah Code 53G-8-211. Any student who brings a firearm to the school will be referred to the criminal justice or juvenile delinquency system.

CRISIS RESPONSE MANUAL (1 of 9)

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
7202		April 11, 2012	May 7, 2025

ADMINISTRATION

Administration, or carry out, of the Crisis Response Plan (CRP) will be the responsibility of each school. Each school shall implement a Crisis Response Team (CRT). Each team will be comprised of an administrator, a secretary, a school counselor, a school psychologist, and as many team members as necessary to effectuate the CRP. Team members can include teachers, parents, and other individuals from the school's community.

The Crisis Response Team Administrator (CRTA) shall be the school's on-site administrator. When the CRTA receives notice of a crisis they shall call the CRT to action, initiate the phone tree, and ensure proper protocol is executed by team members.

The members of the team are to be informed of the information in the CRP, carry-out their responsibilities as assigned by the CRTA, make appropriate contact with their assigned group from the phone tree, make appropriate referrals to parents, students, and members of the media.

DEFINITION OF CRISIS

A crisis is defined by the Merriam-Webster's dictionary as "an emotionally significant event or radical change of status in a person's life." This may include and is not limited to-

- the death of a student or school staff member.
- a homicide, suicide, or other unnatural, non-accidental death of a member of the school community.
- an intruder, kidnapping, or hostage situation.
- upsetting situations due to any natural disaster.
- sexual or violent acts where students are physically and emotionally harmed.
- large scale concern or panic caused by illness, threats, or security breaches.

When a situation is brought to the attention of a CRTA they will use the procedures and protocol section to 1) decide if it can be considered a crisis, 2) know how to instruct the CRT to proceed, and 3) ensure appropriate responsive services have been provided to the school community.

PROCEDURES

It is the objective of the CRT to provide immediate and continued support to those who have experienced or are currently experiencing a crisis. In order to effectively help people return to normal functioning the CRT will use the following procedures and ensuing protocols.

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
7202		April 11, 2012	May 7, 2025

1. A potential crisis is reported to the CRTA.
    i. Verify facts.
    ii. Contact CRT.
2. The CRTA collaborates with CRT members to determine whether crisis management is needed.
    i. If the case is not classified as a crisis, no further action is required.
    ii. If the case is considered a crisis follow the manual procedures.
3. The team should identify the scope of the crisis to know whom to respond to.
    i. Tier I- a few are affected (less than 30 people).
    ii. Tier II- many are affected (more than 30 but less than half of the school community).
    iii. Tier III- most are affected (more than half of the school community).
4. Determine the level of severity of the crisis.
    i. Level I- a minor crisis requires little support for a short remediation period.
    ii. Level II- a moderate crisis will require more support over a longer period of time.
    iii. Level III- a major crisis will likely take a lot of support over an extended period of time to get over.
5. Provide appropriate services for affected school community members.
    i. Identify school personnel who can best assist the student.
        a. School personnel should follow guidelines in the supportive counseling section.
        b. Staff member should have a developed relationship with the student(s).
    ii. Make appropriate outside referrals.
        a. Contact parents and provide a list of community resources.
        b. Help the family/families make contact.
6. Follow up to evaluate recovery.
    i. Make contact with the affected student(s) as frequently as possible.
    ii. Monitor academic performance.
    iii. Monitor attendance.
    iv. Decide when services are no longer necessary.

PROTOCAL FOR RESPONDING TO CRISES

It is understood that only mental health professionals may diagnose disorders, prescribe medication, and accurately assess the mental well-being of an individual. In implementing the CRP the CRT members understand that they are merely providing responsive services to lessen the impact of a crisis on the school community. The protocols herein provided are recognized as effective strategies for handling with sensitivity the delicate emotions of a person in crisis, experiencing shock, or going through the grieving process.

The following is a general list of do's and don'ts as it relates to handling most crises. There are exceptions that should be considered by the CRT.

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
7202		April 11, 2012	May 7, 2025

Do	Don't
• Be discreet (if not everyone is involved not everyone needs to know) • Determine who would be best to make a personal announcements • Disseminate accurate information • Act quickly to dispel rumors • Provide supportive counseling (see supportive counseling section) to affected individuals • Make contact with the family to express concern • Identify close friends and at-risk students • Establish grief counseling groups • Be sensitive • Listen when the affected want to talk	• Downplay the effects of the situation • Ignore the incident(s) • Provide school sponsored vigils or assemblies • Cancel school or class time • Tell people how they should feel • Ignore concerns or feelings • Make PA announcements • Dismiss effected students without providing services • Allow media or general public access to the school community • Provide public comments until the facts and full disclosure can be given • Assume you understand how people are feeling

SUPPORTIVE COUNSELING

When a tragedy occurs or other crises happen people will have many emotional reactions. To help someone process their emotions, develop appropriate coping strategies, and continue to function properly a supporter must employ many skills and strategies. Helping someone make sense of what has happened will take time and understanding. Follow these general guidelines to be more effective:

Grief

- Be available when the grieving want to talk.
- Listen to what they are saying; don't be quick to give advice or tell them how they should feel.
- When responding be honest, brief, and sincere.
- In cases of death use the deceased person's name.
- Encourage the student to express fears and concerns.
- Recognize the stages of grief (denial, anger, depression, bargaining, and acceptance). Reassure the student that their feelings are normal but do not tell them how to feel or what they should do to move on.
- Be patient; allow pauses, silence, reflection. Don't feel like someone always has to be talking.

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
7202		April 11, 2012	May 7, 2025

- Anticipate the student may feel guilt, shock, anxiety, remorse over what they could've done differently,
- Help the student feel safe and secure. Don't judge or shun them it isolates and impedes progression.
- Take time with them; don't rush them.
- Ask them if they would like to participate in a group that is going through something similar.
- Be nurturing (express your concern and feelings for the student, but be sincere)
- Offer personal experiences if relevant.
- Recognize the need to ventilate and be validated. The student needs to talk it out, ventilation, and be understood, validation.
- Instill confidence by letting them make choices, reminding them of past successes, and praise them for seeking out someone to talk to.
- It is not necessary to have the student relive the experience, but they should not ignore it. Help them talk about what's on their mind.
- Don't be afraid to speak directly about what happened. Use specific words like, "I'm sorry _____ died." "It must hurt to have _____ go to prison." "I can't imagine how it must be to adjust to life without _____." (Use names of people or what the person called them.)
- Don't make decisions for them or become an advice giver.

Suicide

- Don't ignore, put down, or judge the person.
- Be hopeful when speaking to them.
- Be aware of risk factors:
  - Family history
  - Verbally threatens suicide
  - Depression (loss in appetite, sleep, drop in school performance, anhedonia.)
  - Personality change
  - Isolation
  - Taking unnecessary risks
  - Substance abuse
  - Making final arrangements (giving away special possessions, tying up loose ends.)

POSSIBLE INTERVENTION STRATEGIES

The following intervention strategies are to be used with care. Proper training should be given for those who administer to people suffering from recent traumatic events. If symptoms are too severe, DO NOT administer to the suffering individuals; instead, make appropriate referrals to professional mental health agencies.

Systematic Desensitization

Systematic Desensitization is a relaxation technique designed to help overcome anxiety that is caused by a specific trigger. It may also be used as relaxation therapy for stress in general, in which case the steps below may be modified using just step I from the following description.

I. Learning Relaxation therapy (practice this section until it becomes automatic, it can be done in about 5 minutes and can be done as often as time permits.)
   a. Environment- create a surrounding that helps you feel relaxed. It should be free from distractions, outside noises, interruptions, etc. You should NOT be in bed (a recliner, a sofa, or a comfortable chair.) If music helps you choose some soft and quiet background music; nature sounds, ocean sounds, etc. are recommended. Dim lights or candle light is also relaxing. Turn off the TV, NO cell phones, you may have another person read the anxiety hierarchy situation to you if you need.
   b. Physical comfort- in a relaxing environment you should feel comfortable. Next, you need to make your body feel relaxed. You should wear loose fitting clothing so it is not restrictive or distracting your focus (a robe, pajamas, silk, something you feel comfortable in). Get into a position you feel relaxed and can stay that way for about 30 minutes.
   c. Breathing- proper breathing consists of in through the nose slow and deep, out through the mouth slow and deep. The length of the breaths does not need to be precise as long as it is consistent.
   d. Muscle progression- while breathing focus on one area of muscles at a time. Start with the neck and head (neck up), next are the arms and upper torso (chest to shoulders and arms to the fingertips), followed by the trunk muscles (from below the chest to the waist), the lower body (from waist to needs), and finally the lower legs (from the knees to the toes). To relax each muscle group you should tense or tighten up all of the muscles in the group and hold it for 5 in and out breaths, relaxing on the 5th exhale. Allow one breath in between then move to the next group.

II. Constructing the Anxiety hierarchy (this shouldn't take more than about 20 minutes and only needs to be done once) a. The situation- think about the problematic situation. It is helpful to think of a few events that lead up to one emotionally disturbing event and to think of a few events that follow. Identify 10 statements that describe the scenario. For example if I were afraid to fly on an airplane I might have these ten statements: packing luggage, driving to the airport, checking in at the desk, walking to the terminal, waiting at the terminal, boarding the airplane, taking off, flying through the air, landing, getting off the plane. It does NOT have to be chronological, but it should be associated with the object of the emotional situation.
   b. Assigning a number- as you think of each scenario think of how intense the feelings are; rate them from 1-10 (one is normal feelings, ten is extremely powerful emotion).

c. Creating the hierarchy- use 3X5 cards, pictures, or other objects to represent each of the 10 scenes from the situation. Put them in order of lowest to highest in terms of emotional intensity.

III. Pairing Relaxation therapy with the Anxiety hierarchy (each session should last about 30 minutes and it should take about 6-10 sessions, 8 is average. The sessions can be done once a day, every other day, or as little as once a week. It is less effective to go longer than once a week.

a. Start- create the relaxing atmosphere, when you're free from distractions get into the relaxing position, once relaxed start the breathing exercise. The breathing should be consistent throughout the entire process. When you find a rhythm for your breathing begin the muscle relaxation progression. If needed repeat the muscle relaxation step until you are in a deep state of relaxation. This step should take about 5 minutes.

b. Proceed- introduce the 1st scene (picture, item, drawing, etc.) that represents the lowest emotion in the scenario of emotional hierarchy. Keep it present until you are able to tolerate it for 30 seconds before moving to the next item. Present the next scene/item until you can tolerate it for at least 30 seconds. If you introduce a scene/item and it produces no emotion, either one- you are not imagining the scene vividly enough, or two- it is no longer a source of anxiety. Continue this process until you reach a scene/item that you cannot tolerate for 30 seconds. When you start to feel the anxiety or your relaxed state changes, remove the item until you are completely relaxed again by focusing on your breathing and, if needed, doing the muscle relaxation exercise. Once you have done this exercise for about 30 minutes (if you have music make a 30 minute cd to know when you are done, or have someone tap on the door, give yourself some way, that is not abrupt, to let you know your 30 minutes is up.) When you start the next session begin with the last item you ended the previous session with. Continue the sessions until you are able to go through them all with a complete sense of relaxation.

c. Finish- in vivo experimentation. It is helpful to present the items outside of the relaxed environment after you have discontinued using them. This allows you to generalize those relaxed feelings into other areas of normal life and give you confidence that you can handle those emotions.

IV. Systematic Desensitization is not always 100% effective, if it is not working after 8-10 sessions, or you are still unable to control the anxiety level when the situation is presented try writing a script of one of your sessions and have a partner read it aloud as you go through the steps. Some people find it cumbersome to have to remember all of the steps and do them while maintaining focus. If you are still not getting the results you need it may help to see a therapist.

STAGES OF GRIEF

When a traumatic event happens it produces a wide range of emotions. To cope with these powerful emotions it helps to understand the grieving process. Most people will experience some, most, or all of the following emotions:

I. Denial- the event might lead to disbelief that such a thing could happen to you or that it has actually happened. Processing will help overcome denial. Make factual statements i.e. "my mother died." "I was there when my mother passed away." These types of statements help our mind make sense of the shock we have experienced. It also helps to have others confirm our statements, listen to us, and talk about how the experience affected them.

II. Anger- it is normal to be angry at the person or situation that has caused us grief and pain. Some people find it helpful to vent to others in a process called ventilation and validation. The supporter should be someone you can trust to hear you and not judge your comments. They are not there to try and "fix" your anger or feelings only to let you talk openly (ventilation) and reassure you that they understand your feelings and don't think badly about you for being open about them (validation). In fact, the supporter should not interject personal stories, comparisons, etc. with statements like "I know what you mean", "I felt the same way when…" such statements detract from the ventilator. The ventilator is encouraged to use specific language to express themselves, "I am so mad at mom for dying and leaving me without her help, how am I supposed to do this alone", "why did God let this happen to me, doesn't he care about me?" The supporter should validate the grieving with accepting statements such as, "I can't imagine how devastating this must be for you", "Let it out", "I want to hear more", etc.

III. Depression- is not just sadness, but prolonged sadness that affects multiple areas of a person's life. The desire to ruminate over the situation, the loss of joy in things once pleasurable, feeling tired but restless, self-loathing, are all symptoms of depression. Many feel guilt over their loss and blame themselves for the situation. Continuing in these normal feelings may lead one to experience a bout or multiple bouts of depression. To process this emotion one should again confide in a supporter. Talk to someone trusted, who will NOT judge you, about your feelings. The supporter is encouraged to help think positively by making factual uplifting statements. "There is a time for everyone to die, I'm sure your mother isn't in pain anymore." "Your mother loved you and was proud of you." "I hope you can still feel her near you." Depression is best handled with the introduction of positive flooding. When a negative thought enters the mind flood it out immediately with 8-10 positive and true statements. The objective is not to get the depressed to stop talking about their sad feelings but to differentiate between what is true though sad, and what is embellished.

IV. Bargaining- another common expression of grief is the unrealistic desire to regain what is lost. Here the grieving will offer something they have to possibly regain time, experiences, physical contact with one they have lost. An important strategy for a supporter is to offer realistic ways to achieve the objective. For instance, one grieving might say, "I'd give everything I own just to hold you in my arms again." A supporter could say, "I'm not your mother but you can hug me while you think of her and I won't charge you anything." The supporter should be realistic, compassionate, and offer good alternatives or suggestions. "If only I could bake cookies with mom again." "What if you and I made cookies and shared fun stories of your mom?"

V. Acceptance- When the grieving has processed their emotions and understands that they can move on and still love the deceased they are in the acceptance stage. Acceptance doesn't mean the person isn't sad or doesn't cry over their loss. Acceptance means one understands how important their living life means to the deceased and they are ready to honor that wish.

PH-112

Expectations and Behaviors

- Attendance: Attendance at board meetings is mandatory. Missing two consecutive meetings without just cause or prior approval from the President of the board, the principal or at least two other board members may result in dismissal from the board.
- Respect for Others: During open meetings, Board members shall respect and listen to ideas being presented by other board members. Board members carrying out their responsibilities to their fullest potential shall be encouraged by each of the members. Board members should speak positively about staff or other board members to the school community, or parties outside the school community.

Confidentiality is expected in all situations.
- Equal Oversight of both schools: Board member service shall be for the benefit of both schools and the detriment of neither. Documented evidence of violations of this expectation is grounds for dismissal. - Conflict Resolution: Conflicts shall be resolved with the people with whom the conflict was created. PH—STUDENT STANDARDS, DISCIPLINE, AND DRESS CODE

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
PH-221

Student Standards

A handbook on school policies and procedures is available online. Each student and parent will be asked to follow the enrollment procedures and read the pertinent school policies and the consequences for policy infractions.

Thomas Edison Charter Schools standards include, but are not limited to:

- Discipline

  Thomas Edison Charter School subscribes to the idea that learning is a joy and school is a happy place. The focus of educators' attention is on what students are doing well. TECS espouses a management plan in which administrators and teachers are skilled and practiced in the principles of classroom management. The term "discipline" takes on its noblest and finest meaning-"Training that corrects."

  TECS has adopted Glenn I. Latham's principles of classroom management. (Further details may be found in the teacher handbook.)

  The spirit of these principles, to the greatest extent possible, will apply to interactions be-tween school staff, including between administration and staff.

- Dress Code

  Students are expected to dress in a neat, attractive fashion reflecting pride in themselves and in their school. The dress code is established to help ensure an atmosphere conducive to study. The details are listed in the policies and procedures manual and may also be in the parent and teacher handbooks.

Item #	Board President Signature	Original Approval Date	Last Amendment Date
PH-331

Principal

The selection of principal for each school is the responsibility of the governing board.
The principal at each school is hired on an annual contract providing for termination only upon "good cause." In the latter half of each school year, the governing board will evaluate the principal before deciding whether to renew his or her employment contract for the following year. The principals at both schools will be appointed or approved for another year of service no later than the March board meeting.

Teachers/Staff

All employees of the Thomas Edison Schools, except the principals, are "at will" employees. "At will" employment status is the most common type of employment in the private sector in Utah, and such employment will provide the Thomas Edison Schools with the flexibility necessary to meet its responsibilities under the charter. All teachers and staff of the Thomas Edison Schools will be evaluated before renewal hiring decisions are made for the following year.

The principals are responsible for hiring and retention of teachers and other staff for both schools. For teachers, the administrative team at each school conducts a pre-selection from applications received. Each principal will conduct a final interview and make a recommendation to the board. The board ap-proves all hiring and retention decisions.

Background checks and/or drug testing on prospective or current employees, particularly teachers, are performed as required by state law.

Teachers

As required by the state of Utah, teachers will be licensed, certified teachers or be qualified to teach under USBE's alternative certification or authorization program.

Teachers shall follow the time management chart found in the teacher handbook.

Parent-teacher conferences will be held a minimum of two times per school year to coordinate learning needs and goals with parents. The teacher or a parent can request additional conferences as the need arises. Spalding training will be required of all elementary grade-level teachers. The administrative team will determine which class of Spalding training needs to be attended. The school will coordinate this training.

Elementary students will typically be in self-contained classrooms for all of the core subjects, i.e., language arts, math, science, history, etc. Other courses such as music, art, P.E., computer science, and core academic subjects for secondary may be on a rotation basis so all students can benefit from the expertise of employees trained in these areas.
Each core class will have a qualified teacher. In addition, an aide, student teacher and/or parent volunteers may be assigned to assist in the classroom on a regular basis.

Counselor/Psychologist/Other Professional Staff

All professional staff will be qualified through appropriate agencies to provide professional services.

Both schools use the Spalding Method as its language arts and reading method. The Spalding Method is a total language arts approach because it provides explicit, sequential, multisensory instruction in spelling (including phonics and penmanship), composition, and listening/reading comprehension.

Another aspect of the TECS educational method that sets it apart from other schools is 'recitations'. Each student memorizes and then recites at school, one selection of either prose or poetry at least once every six weeks.

This accomplishes two things:

1. enhances students' ability to memorize passages in a timely fashion
2. provides students the valuable experience of speaking in front of audiences, preparing them for public speaking that may be applied later in their adult lives

It is the policy of Thomas Edison Charter Schools, when implementing the mathematics program, to meet and exceed Utah State Standards by teaching an advanced math curriculum for grades K - 5. In grades 6 - 8, math placement is based on students' skill development with teacher and parent input.
